the ability to gauge unit readiness and resilience. The URI is an anonymous questionnaire that screens for high-risk behaviors and attitudes (which includes alcohol and drug abuse, financial, and suicide) within the units that could affect unit readiness. Commanders can contact the ASAP Risk Reduction Program Coordinator (RRPC) for more information at DSN: 314-467-3342/1710.

e. Commanders will establish unit watch policies and procedures for uniformed members who are deemed at risk for suicide by Behavioral Health professionals. The unit watch policy will incorporate a 24-hour watch, battle buddy designation, a weapons profile, and access to Government issued weapons.
