AMC plays key supporting role in space and missile defense

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. – Gen. Ed Daly, Army Materiel Command commander, spoke during the Space and Missile Defense Symposium, emphasizing AMC’s vital role in support of space and missile defense. “AMC is currently supporting numerous systems in the air and missile defense arena but we are focused on more than current readiness; we are also focused on modernization of those efforts,” Daly said. “We are working to ensure that sustainment is always an enabler, and we are thinking deep in terms of materiel solutions and how we will sustain the next fight.”

Sustainers critical to force modernization

REDSTONE ARSENAL, Ala. – The Army is undergoing its greatest transformation in more than 40 years, pursuing persistent modernization across force employment, force development and force design. The 2021 Army Modernization Strategy, released in May, established the foundation for how we will develop a force ready for Multi-Domain Operations by Aim-Point 2035 to retain our position as the globally-dominant land power. The strategy recognizes that modernization is more than just weapon systems.

America's arsenals fuel modernization

REDSTONE ARSENAL, Ala. – The Army’s organic industrial base provides critical materiel and sustainment support to warfighters across the joint force. While the OIB is essential to meeting current needs and national defense strategy requirements, it must modernize now to meet the needs of the future force in a multi-domain operations environment. OIB modernization directly aligns with the Army’s priorities of people, readiness and modernization, and postures the Army to respond to the evolving demands of future warfare.

CECOM welcomes new commander

ABERDEEN PROVING GROUND, Md. – Maj. Gen. Robert Edmonson II assumed command of Communications-Electronics Command from Maj. Gen. Mitchell Kilgo during a ceremony Aug. 6. Gen. Ed Daly, commanding general of Army Materiel Command, presided over the ceremony and the traditional passing of the organization colors, assisted by CECOM Command Sgt. Maj. Kristie Brady. Edmonson also assumes the role of APG senior commander. Edmonson’s most recent position was as the Deputy Chief of Staff, G-6/CIO, Army Forces Command.

PEOPLE FIRST – QUALITY OF LIFE UPDATES

Fort Carson legal team assists Soldiers with new housing lease

FORT CARSON, Colo. – The Department of Defense will begin rolling out a universal housing lease for on-post residents this summer. The new lease will allow residents to be assured of standardized leasing rules wherever they reside on any DOD installation. Stephanie Howell, chief, Legal Assistance Office at Fort Carson, said one of the most important aspects of the new lease is that it includes a tenant's bill of rights. Explaining legal terms to Soldiers is one of the many actions staff members at Fort Carson's Legal Assistance Office perform on a regular basis.

Schofield Commissary named 2nd best 'Super Commissary'

FORT LEE, Va. – The Defense Commissary Agency announced the winners of the Best Commissary Awards in a virtual ceremony. The awards are given in five categories, determined by store location and size, and are named in honor of those who protected the commissary benefit and championed quality-of-life issues. DeCA zone managers nominated one store per awards category from their zone. Nominations were judged on qualities such as friendly environment, a well-run store, good work ethic and sense of a cohesive team.

Fort Campbell CPAC helps spouses explore employment options

FORT CAMPBELL, Ky. – Carmen Williams, a human resources specialist for the Civilian Personnel Advisory Center, is a military spouse and knows firsthand how a permanent change of station can affect them, as well as their Families, economically. Having been through this situation personally, Williams uses her experience to help other military spouses navigate the process of uprooting their careers to move to another duty station, and fortunately now, she said, the process of using spousal preference is easier and more streamlined than ever.

Click2Go launches at Hawaii commissaries

FORT LEE, Va. – It's not an overstatement to say that Commissary CLICK2GO™ is new and improved. Now featuring online payment and more product information, the online ordering/curbside delivery service is being expanded to all stateside commissaries by the end of the year, and overseas stores soon thereafter. Click2Go will be launched at all Hawaii-based commissaries Aug. 23. The Defense Commissary Agency has been galvanized to bring online ordering, payment and pick-up options to all eligible patrons.

Students complete USAG-Kwajalein Atoll CYS Commander's Summer Challenge

KWAJALEIN ATOLL, Marshall Islands – As the culminating service reward for completing the Child and Youth Services Summer Challenge, 19 young residents conducted a trash clean-up on the island of Bigej. The second iteration of the month-long program challenges participants enrolled in grades 6-12 to complete an array of academic, physical fitness and environmental challenges: retrieving at least 300 pounds of trash, completing an approved education project and performing 28 hours of physical activity.
