AFN go

AFN Go is the American Forces Network's steaming audio service available to the authorized audience serving outside of the United States, its territories, and possessions. The service is available via an internet-connected computer at AFNGO.net or via the free AFN Go app, available in the Apple and Google app stores.

The service provides listeners with a wide variety of music from the major, popular genres as well as the best in talk and news radio. Users can also select and listen to their favorite local AFN station and obtain push notifications about important issues impacting their health, safety, wellbeing, and situational awareness.

Each AFN station has its own channel on the app along with programming originating directly from the AFN Broadcast Center in California. AFN Go replaced the legacy AFN 360 streaming audio service, which was retired on 1 April 2022.
