BLUE STAR

Welcme Week 2023

Blue Star Welcome Week: The Why

Every year, 600,000 military-connected families move.

This places massive stress on the entire family unit. And when there is stress on service members, it jeopardizes their readiness and the military as a whole.

Blue Star Families annual survey has identified that “lack of a sense of belonging to their community” is a major challenge for military families—but those who do have a sense of belonging are much more likely to thrive.

Our survey identified the problem. Blue Star Welcome Week is the solution.

Blue Star Welcome Week

When: September 21 –29, 2024

Blue Star Welcome Week is designed to alleviate relocation challenges and support military families with opportunities to participate in events, including receiving messages and actions of welcome and appreciation from communities across the country.

Join us to raise awareness among Americans and build grassroots support for our military families.
