

Your military experience is a great fit for biopharmaceutical manufacturing.

James Benton, military intern at Seqirus,
U.S. Army Captain Fort Bragg, N.C.
Photo: James Benton

Internship host company

Internships for service members 5–6 months from military exit date provide

- On-the-job training that lasts 12-16 weeks
- Fast track to a biopharma manufacturing career
- Above average pay and benefits

Available internships include

- Warehouse operations
- Manufacturing production technicians
- Maintenance/utilities
- Instrumentation/calibration

Apply today at bit.ly/militaryinternships
Visit ncbiotech.org/veterans for more info

North Carolina
Biotechnology Center

Veterans Outreach Program
an approved Career Skills Program