

LEAVING THE MILITARY BUT NOT SURE WHAT'S NEXT?

Earn your certificate in Aviation Maintenance Technology, B-737 Familiarization and an interview with industry hiring partners.

Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University – Worldwide is proud to offer a new SkillBridge program that will ease your transition to civilian life by training you in Aviation Maintenance Technology and then connecting you with our committed aerospace industry hiring partners.

This nine-week program is offered face-to-face with terms starting several times per year. It is open to transitioning service members, veterans and military spouses. You don't need an aviation background, but mechanical aptitude is important. Successful graduates are guaranteed one interview with aerospace hiring partners*.

- /// Complete the fast-paced and full-time program virtually anywhere.
- /// Program provides an 18-credit hour Aviation Maintenance Certificate and a B-737 Familiarization Certificate from industry partner AAR. Classes take place Monday through Friday.
- /// $250/credit hour for active-duty military. Approved for VA benefits. Normal tuition rates apply.
- /// Service members within six months of separation or retirement, recently separated veterans and military spouses.
- /// You must have command approval to attend the program and be willing to relocate to hiring partner locations once you've separated.
