Fort Carson activates new Army formation, 4th Multi-Domain Task Force

FORT CARSON, Colo. – The 4th Multi-Domain Task Force (MDTF) will conduct a dual activation and assumption of command ceremony Oct. 8 at 10 a.m. on Founders Field.

Col. Hugh W.A. Jones will assume command of the 4MDTF and activate the unit alongside Command Sgt. Maj. Garry Charles Pruitt II, the task force command sergeant major.

The reviewing officer for this ceremony will be Maj. Gen. Bernard J. Harrington, the commander of the 7th Infantry Division (Multi-Domain Command-Pacific), located at Joint Base Lewis-McChord, Wash. The event will include the ceremonial uncasing of the unit's guidon, a time-honored tradition symbolizing the activation of a new Army formation.

Prior to commanding the 4MDTF, Jones commanded the 2nd Stryker Brigade, 4th Infantry Division at Fort Carson. During his command, 2nd Brigade led as the main effort for Joint Task Force-Southern Border and as a prototype formation for next generation command and control and transformation in contact.

4MDTF is comprised of four battalions and will have a combined strength of approximately 2,100 Soldiers. It is a direct reporting unit to the 7th Infantry Division (MDC-PAC) and is aligned to the Indo-Pacific region.

On June 18, 2026, the 7th Infantry Division and 1st Multi-Domain Task Force were redesignated as 7th ID (MDC-PAC) with the primary mission of integrating maneuver, fires, air defense, cyber, space,
