ASAP Specialists Susanne Watts and Albert Bush: CRRT/High Risk Behaviors/URIs

The Army Substance Abuse Program (ASAP) Ambassador Academy

Purpose: Provide junior Soldiers with the education and skills necessary to function as liaisons between their units and ASAP and other prevention services as a first line of prevention. They will assist commanders in addressing substance use related risk factors and safety within their units by providing information and resources on substance misuse and other prevention resources. The aim of the program is to have skilled junior Soldiers who can promote a culture of change for responsible drinking and substance misuse within their formation and teach the low-risk drinking guidelines and promote risk reduction to ensure readiness and overall wellbeing with trust, dignity and respect in all ranks.
