ACCEPTABLE CREDENTIALS

- (1) DoD CAC. The CAC simultaneously establishes identity, historic fitness, and purpose.
- (2) DoD USID. The USID establishes identity and generally establishes purpose (such as, but not limited to, retirees and dependents); no deviation is required for such policies.
- (3) Non-CAC LRC issued by the local installation. These credentials simultaneously establish identity, historic fitness, and purpose.
- (4) REAL ID-compliant driver's license or non-driver's identification card issued by a State, territory, possession, or the District of Columbia. These credentials establish only identity.
- (5) Enhanced driver's license issued by a State, territory, possession, or the District of Columbia. These credentials establish only identity.
- (6) U.S. passport or passport card. These credentials establish only identity.
- (7) Foreign passport bearing an unexpired immigrant or non-immigrant visa or entry stamp. These credentials establish only identity.

REAL ID

- The REAL ID Act establishes minimum security standards for license issuance and production and prohibits certain federal agencies from accepting for certain purposes driver's licenses and identification cards from states not meeting the Act's minimum standards. The purpose of REAL ID is to make our identity documents more consistent and secure.
- As of March 26, 2021, 55 states and territories are fully compliant with the REAL ID requirements.
- REAL ID-compliant cards will have one of the following markings on the upper top portion of the card. If the card does not have one of these markings, it is not REAL ID-compliant:

REAL ID

- Those licenses and identification cards not REAL ID compliant will clearly state on their face that the card is not acceptable for official purposes (Not Valid for Federal Purposes, Not For Use as Federal Identification, Federal Limits Apply, or any other similar phrase).
- The U.S. Department of Defense (DoD) recently finalized an update to its DoD-Wide installation security policy and is in the process of no longer accepting noncompliant marked cards across all its facilities and installations (DoD Manual 5200.08, Volume 3). DoD Component heads and installation commanders will accept all types of credentials listed in Section 5 as acceptable for their type of installation.
- Fort Gregg-Adams is considered an installation with electronic physical access control system (ePACS)-enabled DoD installations with Identity Matching Engine for Security and Analysis (IMESA) functionality.
- Per guidance for Higher HQ: If the ID is not a real- ID compliant identification card, they are still required to provide a second form of identification for identification verification.

REAL ID

- The following combinations of source identity documents will be accepted:

(1) TWIC (Transportation Workers Identification Card) used in conjunction with a driver's license issued by a State, territory, possession, or the District of Columbia that is not REAL ID-compliant bearing the same name and similar photograph. In this situation:

(a) The TWIC is the credential used to establish identity for the purpose of access control.

(b) The non-REAL ID-compliant driver's license is used to establish identity for the purpose of force protection.

(2) VHIC (Veteran's Health Identification Card) used in conjunction with a driver's license issued by a State, territory, possession, or the District of Columbia that is not REAL ID-compliant bearing the same name and similar photograph. In this situation:

(a) The VHIC is the credential used to establish identity for the purpose of access control.

(b) The non-REAL ID-compliant driver's license is used to establish identity for the purpose of force protection.

(3) Original or certified true copy of a birth certificate bearing a raised seal, social security card, and driver's license issued by a State, territory, possession, or the District of Columbia that is not REAL ID-compliant. All three documents must bear the same name, or a former name as documented on acceptable name change documentation such as a court order, marriage certificate, or divorce decree. In this situation:

(a) The birth certificate and social security card are used to establish identity for the purpose of access control.

(b) The non-REAL ID-compliant driver's license is used to establish identity for the purpose of force protection
