

Garrison: Wiesbaden Storyboard

- “Wednesday Night Alive”
- Task: Provide Movie Nights
- Purpose: Build greater trust & connection through small group programs of religious education and a community meal for fellowship

Provide a variety of needs-based curricula and trained volunteer facilitators to lead small group study and discussion. Over the last three weeks we have had record attendance, even overflowing into a (very cold) hallway. The success of this program has only been limited by the size of our facilities, the slow process of background checks for volunteers working with children, and our tenant units’ OPTEMPO that hinders many from attending on time or attending at all.

Readiness Depends on Family Spiritual Resiliency. If people are struggling with the spiritual readiness of their family, they are not focused on the mission. Spiritual mentorship for children and teenagers is important to shape their religious identity. We want to partner with parents to cultivate that identity.
