WHEN/WHERE: June 19, 2020 at 1830/Panzer, Patch, Robinson, Kelley Track/Chapels

SUMMARY: Community members at U.S. Army Garrison Stuttgart came together June 19 to promote equality for all and to show their support for a global movement against discrimination. In all, roughly 600 people took part in seven coordinated events at four separate locations. That included running and walking five kilometers together, enjoying music and talking together about race and inequality. Chapels were open for a vigil during the evening. Community members prayed, lit candles of remembrance and posted the names of those they wanted remembered in prayer. At 8:46 p.m., community members were encouraged to pause and reflect in silence, using candles, flashlights or cell phones to shine a unifying light wherever they were. Chaplains were on hand to help people struggling with frustration or grief.

SUMMARY: To gathered together to run and walk in solidarity to continue the fight to remove the barriers of discrimination for everyone-discrimination based on gender, race, age, color, religion, or sexual orientation. Also, to encourage meaningful dialogue about issues of race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation and other disparities in a way that is reflective of the Army's core values
