

Lieutenant Colonel Adam M. Bolliger assumed command of the 1916th Support Battalion on 10 June 2026.

LTC Bolliger was born at Camp Pendleton California, and grew up in Forrest, Illinois.

He enlisted in 2004 as an Intelligence Analyst, then earned his commission from Illinois State University ROTC in 2008 as a Transportation Officer.

His first assignment after commissioning was with 1st Armored Division, 377th Heavy Equipment Transportation Company at Fort Bliss, Texas. He served as the Operations Officer/Executive Officer retrograding tracked and heavy equipment from Iraq to Kuwait in support of Operation IRAQI FREEDOM & Operation NEW DAWN.

He completed Logistics Captain's Career Course at Fort Lee, VA in 2012.

From 2013-2015, LTC Bolliger's Company Command was in 7th Infantry Division, 16th Combat Aviation Brigade, 46th Aviation Support Battalion at Fort Lewis, WA. He was also the Rear Battalion Commander for four companies and 270 soldiers for nine months, concurrently with his 22 months of company command of the Headquarters and Support Company.

In 2015, LTC Bolliger did a 12 month tour under US Army Africa - Southern European Task Force as the Movement Control Team Officer in Charge of Operation ECHO CASEMATE, planning and executing heavy airlift logistics throughout West Africa and France in support of the French Army and Air Force.

From 2016-2018, LTC Bolliger served under XVIII Airborne Corps, 7th Transportation Brigade - Expeditionary at Fort Eustis, VA planning and executing Combined/Joint Logistics Over the Shore.

LTC Bolliger completed Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, KS in 2019.

After CGSC, he served 2 years as the 916th Division Support Brigade Support Operations Officer at The National Training Center at Fort Irwin, CA.

In 2021, he participated in the Military Personnel Exchange Program in Ottawa, Canada in the Canadian Joint Operations Command as the J4 Deputy Chief Plans and J4 NORTHCOM/SOUTHCOM Regional Logistics Desk Officer.

In 2024 LTC Bolliger served as the G4 Deputy Division Chief of Mobility and G4 Chief of Engagements in Southern European Task Force in Vicenza, Italy.

Throughout his 22 years of service, LTC Bolliger has conducted logistics operations globally on land, air, and sea; traveling to and working within every U.S. geographic combatant command.

He holds an Associate's Degree in Intelligence Operations from Cochise College in Arizona, a Bachelor of Science in Economics from Illinois State University, and a Master of Science in Administration from Central Michigan University.

LTC Bolliger and his wife Erin have been married for 15 years.