

LIEUTENANT COLONEL JASON D. PHILLIPS

After attending the Ordnance Basic Officer Leaders Course at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Maryland, he was assigned to 1-66AR BN, 1st BDE, 4ID at Fort Hood, TX as a maintenance platoon leader and maintenance control officer. He deployed to Iraq with 1-66AR, where his unit received the Valorous Unit Citation for actions taken in the Fudhaliyah district of Baghdad, Iraq. Upon his return, he attended the Logistics Captain's Career Course before being assigned to the 11th ACR at Fort Irwin. During his time with the 11th ACR, he commanded the unit's Horse Detachment, overseeing the unit's threefold mission of recruiting command support, ceremonial duties, and OPFOR operations during unit rotations. He then commanded the 699th Maintenance Company of the 916th Support Brigade, responsible for all backup and pass-back maintenance at the National Training Center. LTC Phillips subsequently deployed to Kuwait as a member of the 595th Transportation Brigade (SDDC); his next assignments included time as an assistant professor of military science at Southern Illinois University Edwardsville, a student at the Air Command and Staff College, and a student at the School of Advanced Military Studies.

LTC Phillips served multiple assignments in the 3rd Infantry Division, culminating as the Support Operations Officer for the 3rd BSB, 1ABCT, 3ID, and Support Operations OC/T 5-306th BSB, 188th Infantry Brigade (CATB). He was most recently assigned as the Experimentation Branch Chief in the Joint Staff J-7 Force Development Directorate.

His awards include the Defense Meritorious Service Medal, Meritorious Service Medal w/ 1OLC, Army Commendation Medal w/ 4OLC, Joint Service Achievement Medal, and Army Achievement Medal w/ 2OLC, as well as Airborne and Air Assault wings.

He is married to Danielle Phillips, who also graduated from North Georgia College and State University. LTC Phillips and his wife have been married since 2007 and have two children, Clayton, and Charlotte.