
Estate Planning Questionnaire

For Single Individuals Without Children

Fort Jackson Legal Assistance Office

(803) 751-4287

A Last Will and Testament tells a Court who should receive your property after you die. Probate is the process by which a Court transfers legal ownership of your probate property to your beneficiaries. Estate planning documents, such as a Last Will and Testament, Transfer on Death Deed, and beneficiary designations, can help minimize the need for and expense of probating your estate.

You MUST fill out this Estate Planning Questionnaire - COMPLETELY.

Instructions: Please fill out this questionnaire. It is important that you answer EVERY question. If a question does not apply to your particular situation, you may leave it blank. If the answer to any question requires more space than has been provided on the form, add the information in the "Additional Information" section and refer to the question number to which your answer applies. Since your answers are being made to an attorney, they are confidential and protected by the attorney-client privilege.

This Legal Assistance Office reserves the right to limit or deny assistance in the following situations:

- (1) Complex estates, as determined by the attorney;
- (2) Estates valued over $12.9 million (including non-probate assets such as life insurance);
- (3) Estates in which either a client/spouse owns or has an interest in a business;
- (4) Estates involving special needs planning;
- (5) Estates in which our estate planning services are inappropriate, based on the judgment of office staff; or
- (6) Estates in which the client did not, or refuses to, cooperate with office staff, including fully completing this questionnaire.

The next section tells us about your goals and any concerns you may have about your estate plan.

Your Last Will and Testament tells the Court and your Executor who should get your probate property when you die. You can give your property to anyone you choose; a single person, such as a cousin, or a group of people (e.g., everything to my grandchildren).

You can also give your property in percentages – for example – 50 percent to my niece, 25 percent to my nephew, and 25 percent to my neighbor. You can also choose alternates to receive your property in case the primary person(s) you want to inherit passes away before you.

You are not bound by your responses in this section. Your attorney will discuss your choices with you and make changes, if needed.

What is your primary goal or objective with your Last Will and Testament?

What are your primary concerns with your Last Will and Testament or your estate plan?

Specific Bequests

You may make separate gifts of cash, specific investments, real estate, or personal property to specific people or charities in your will. These bequests will be distributed first and reduce the amount of property left for your other beneficiaries. Specific bequests (and trusts) are appropriate methods of setting aside money and property for children of prior relationships. If you make no specific bequests, all of your property will pass to your primary beneficiaries listed below in the Residuary Estate. Do you wish to make any specific bequest in your will?

If yes, please list your specific bequest(s) and who you want to receive it (them):

Name	Relationship	Item or Dollar Amount

Disposition of Tangible Personal Property

“Tangible” personal property are non-monetary items such as furniture, collectibles and personal effects.

Who do you want to receive your personal property?

Your state of residence may permit the use of a separate “personal property memorandum,” which is a separate writing giving certain items to certain people (e.g., “my pocket watch to my nephew, John Smith”).

Do you want to create a personal property memorandum if permitted by your state? Yes No

Who Do You Want To Receive the Remainder Your Property (i.e., Residuary Estate)?

If you want your property to be divided in unequal shares, please state the person’s name, relationship to you, percentage of your estate they should receive, and if they are an alternate. You may have more than one person as a primary beneficiary or alternate beneficiary.

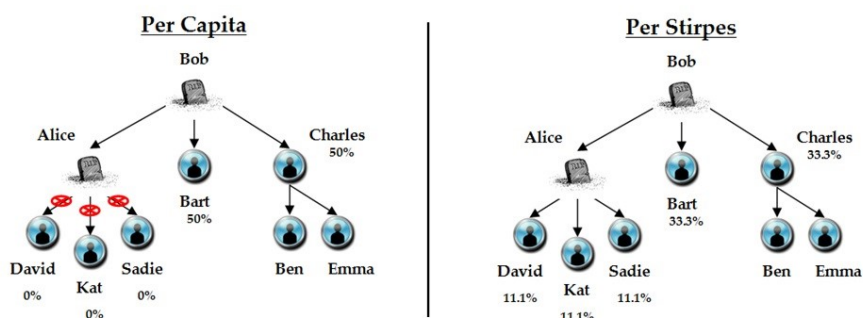

Example: All to my best friend (primary beneficiary) and then to my 4 siblings (1st alternate beneficiary). You are NOT REQUIRED to have alternates.

Beneficiary Name	Relationship	Percentage	Alternate Beneficiary (Yes / No)	1 st /2 nd /or 3 rd Alternate

“Per Stirpes” vs. “Per Capita”

In case any of the beneficiaries listed above dies before you and leaves children, you must decide if you want the share of the deceased beneficiary to go to their children or to pass only to your beneficiaries that survive (live longer than) you. This is best illustrated by an example:

Assume you leave your estate to your three children in equal shares, but one of your children dies before you. You must decide if you want the share of your deceased child to pass to your grandchildren (the deceased child's children), which is called “per stirpes,” or to be divided equally between your surviving children without regard to the deceased child's children (your grandchildren), which is called “per capita.”

Choose ONE Option:

If a beneficiary does not survive you, do you want your property to go to the beneficiary's surviving children (this is the most common selection)? (Per stirpes)

If a beneficiary does not survive you, do you want your property to go to the other named beneficiaries? (Per capita)

Trusts for Children and Others

If any of your beneficiaries are minors or incapable of managing money, you may want to create a Testamentary Trust to hold money on that person's behalf until they reach the age you select.

Are any of your beneficiaries under the age of 18 and need a trust?

Yes No

If yes, please provide the name(s) of the beneficiary(ies) and their relationship to you:

Beneficiary Name	Relationship
