Firefighters practice emergency response to aircraft crash

U.S. Army Garrison Japan firefighters took part in their first downed aircraft scenario in more than a year Thursday, as part of an effort to ramp up emergency training at Kastner Airfield.

Reservist 'strives for excellence' in providing medical care around the globe

Lt. Col. Natalie Johnson still clearly remembers the dispirited atmosphere and how overwhelmed the health care team seemed when she joined them at Jacobi Medical Center in New York. They had been dedicating hundreds of restless hours to provide life-sustaining care to their patients.

ZMHS field day builds camaraderie, celebrates Month of the Military Child

Field Day is back at DODEA Zama Middle High School! The school's student council members worked hard to make it happen, along with help from ZMHS teachers and volunteers from the community.

BOSS adviser, MWR employee recognized for community support

May is recognized as the Month of the Military Caregiver. It is a time to honor and show appreciation for those who provide essential care and medical assistance to service members, veterans and their families.

Camp Zama starts intramural volleyball season at Yano Fitness Center

The Yano Fitness Center was home to soaring spikes, scrambling defenders and even a few blistering jump serves as the intramural volleyball season kicked off Monday night. Come on out and cheer on your teammates as they compete for Commander's Cup points!
