

Albert S. Mack
(Mack)
DAMIS Program Manager
HQDA G-1
DAPE-AR
Pentagon Arlington, VA

Mr. Mack is currently the Lead Program Analyst in the HQDA Army Resiliency Directorate for the Drug and Alcohol Management Information System (DAMIS). He recently served as the Installations Substance Abuse Program Manager here at Joint Base Myer.

Mack is a retired United States Air Force Non-Commissioned Officer. During his 21 year career he began as a dental assistant during his first 3 ½ yrs. in the Air Force at Hill AFB UT. Mack retrained in the USAF Social Actions Career field as a Drug and Alcohol Counselor. During his Air Force he served as the NCOIC of Family Advocacy and Substance Abuse Program Manager. His career in the substance abuse field has covered 37 yrs. to date.

Since his retirement from the USAF he has worked as a Counselor in a therapeutic community in a medium security prison, an outreach addiction therapist for the Dept. of Veteran Affairs, Regional Drug Program Manager for the Federal Aviation Administration, Substance Abuse Counselor for the Dept. of State, and ASAP Managers at Ft. Drum, USMA at West Point, and here. He has over 40 yrs. of outstanding Federal Service.

Committed to continual growth and professional development. Mack has a BA in Psychology from the University of Central Oklahoma, completed the USDA Graduates Schools Executive Leadership Program, The US Army's Advanced Leader Course along with numerous military and civilian courses during his career.

He has been invited and spoke at National Conventions for the Black Coalition of Federal Aviation Employees Convention, FAA GLOBE (Gay Lesbian Other and Bisexual Employees). As the ASAP Manager at FT. Drum he was asked by the Garrison Commander to help establish the installations first LGBTQ support group New Voices which is still in existence.

Mr. Mack is the father of 3 adult sons Callie, Kelcey, and Corbyn. He is also happily partnered to his best friend Craig.