AWARDS & ACCOMPLISHMENTS

QUARTERLY AWARDS 4.24

Leader of the Quarter

Monique Eppes
DFMWR

As the Child Youth Services Financial Management specialist, childcare space enrollment monitor and supervisor overseeing custodial and technology operations, Eppes has shown a proactive approach, exceptional dedication and strategic leadership style that have strengthened CYS operations and supported Fort Knox's mission to protect and support Soldiers, Families, and children.

Employee of the Quarter

Shala LeMaster
DHR

In her role as a Workforce Development specialist, LeMaster always goes above and beyond what is expected and has performed at a level of dedication, initiative and creativity that showcase her team spirit. Always willing to assist, LeMaster has supported lunch and learns, created flyers and marketing materials and more for DHR, while also supporting 950+ employees in Garrison with professional development guidance and opportunities.

Service Culture Campaign Employee of the Quarter

Megan Setter
DFMWR

As a Family Advocacy Program manager Setter has shown remarkable dedication and leadership in planning and budgeting by executing a comprehensive Child Abuse Awareness and Prevention Month (CAPM) campaign. Despite being new to Family Programs, Setter quickly began planning by coordinating CAPM activities with various community programs and partners, which reached over 2,000 individuals across Fort Knox.

Crafts and Trades Professional of the Quarter

As the work leader of the Range Maintenance Section, Sweetman has fostered a culture of service excellence within his section through dedication and innovative problem-solving approaches. During the quarter his team provided maintenance support for 61 live-fire ranges and fabricated and painted over 50 tank-sized targets. Sweetman also implemented a set of new DPTMS licensing standards.

Mark Sweetman,
DPTMS

Team of the Quarter

Team Training Support, DPTMS

The efforts of Fort Knox Training Support Center Team during Cadet Summer Training '24 ensured that ROTC Cadets received essential training and evaluation. The team demonstrated innovation by leveraging Soldier Monitoring Systems from three installations at no additional cost, working directly with the Army Training Support Center to secure additional training devices for Basic Rifle Marksmanship Training, making functional adjustments to the Night Infiltration Course and more.

MONTHLY SPOTLIGHT

October

The Fort Knox Equal Employment Opportunity Office is tasked with creating an equal opportunity workplace for DA civilians through training, advising and compliance programs in support of the U.S. Army mission. The office offers advisory services for DA civilians wishing to enter the complaint process. They also provide guidance for employees and supervisors navigating the reasonable accommodation process. With a team of three, the office fields about 1,400 contacts per year and provides EEO complaint processing services to the 4,604 civilians assigned to Fort Knox. The team also provides required annual training to the workforce, as well as conflict resolution and mediation services.

November

The Information Management Office is the principal adviser for installation information technology and management. While the Fort Knox IMO provides general support to all Garrison personnel, they also manage all Garrison information technology systems and information assurance requirements, as well as managing the Fort Knox Garrison IT governance process. The office provides support for Network Enterprise Center coordination, synchronization and integration of command, communication and information management services, and ensures compliance with IA directives and processes. It also oversees Army Portfolio Management System actions and the submitting and tracking of all Information Technology Approval System requests. Additionally, the office provides strategic IT planning and manages garrison IT modernization programs.

December

The mission of Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment is to provide command and control, administrative, logistical and training support for all assigned and attached HHD Soldiers. This year, the HHD Guardians led the Youth Leadership event by running the Alex Field Leadership Reaction Course with over 25 students from various local High School Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps programs. They also honored veterans by speaking at local Veterans Day ceremonies. Fort Knox HHD staff also served Fort Knox Soldiers, civilians, and Families during the annual Thanksgiving Day meal, delivered Christmas toy contributions from organizations and planned and organized the Garrison Holiday Social, celebrating Garrison partners' accomplishments throughout the year.

GOLD STANDARD ACHIEVEMENTS

It was announced on Sept. 4 that U.S. Army Garrison-Fort Knox was named Best Garrison in IMCOM Directorate-Training. USAG-Knox will represent ID-T to compete for Best Garrison in all of IMCOM. The winner will be announced in spring 2025.

annual Gold Medal Award Program.

The Fort Knox Directorate of Family and Morale, Welfare and Recreation was recognized on Oct. 9 as a Gold Medal finalist in the Armed Forces Recreation category of the National Recreation and Park Association's

Holiday Social

Simply having a wonderful holiday time!

*Deck the halls with boughs of holly,
The Saber & Quill so warm and jolly!
Laughter filled the festive air,
Joy and cheer were everywhere.
Holiday spirits shining bright,
Dancing through the winter night.
Fort Knox Garrison' shining light,
Together we made this night so bright.*

Garrison staff and family attended the 2024 Fort Knox Garrison Holiday Social held Dec. 13 at the Saber & Quill Catering and Conference Center for food, fun and holiday cheer.

GET TO KNOW ...

Ron Harness

Supervisory Emergency Services Dispatcher, Directorate of Emergency Services and the 911 Dispatch Center

Harness was born in Somerset, Kentucky and raised in a small farming community on a family dairy farm owned by his grandfather, in a town called Beelick. He spent his entire childhood in Beelick, where his great-great grandparents helped build the community and the church that his family still attends today. Harness' career in the Army has taken him to Fort Polk, Louisiana; Camp Hovey, Korea; and Fort Knox, in the old Rose Terrace housing area. Since exiting the military, the Harness family has lived in Radcliff and Elizabethtown, and they currently reside in Vine Grove. Harness works as the Supervisory Emergency Services dispatcher, Directorate of Emergency Services and the 911 Dispatch Center; a team he joined in April 1999.

GG: What is your favorite quote?

RH: My grandpa used to tell us kids, "You spend the first half of your life wishing time would go faster and the second half wishing life would slow down." As a young man it made no sense to me, but now that I am older, watching the anniversaries, birthdays, and life events of my family roll by, I often wish that time would just stand still.

GG: What do you like to do outside of work?

RH: I have several passions outside of work. I take every opportunity I get to go on camping, fishing and occasional kayak trips with my family and friends. I also have a passion for finding and restoring old tools and making them usable again. I also enjoy leathercrafting things such as belts, knife sheaths and gun holsters.

GG: What aspect of your role do you enjoy the most?

RH: I believe our job is to help people in their worst possible moment, maybe most traumatic day of their lives, and ensure that timely and professional emergency care is provided. Though the time we spend with someone may be short, we share empathy and compassion, while quickly making decisions for a response, sometimes providing medical instructions and care for them until responders arrive. We are the first responder of every incident on Fort Knox; what we do matters, and I am surrounded by a team of like-minded individuals that share the same point of view.

GG: What is your hidden talent?

RH: I am the greatest papaw of all time. I have 13 grandchildren and one great-grand child, and I have a different connection with each of them. I spend as much time with them as I can, going on outings and activities, sharing and being a part of their lives as much as possible. I do my best to talk with and teach them things I have learned over my many years, and praying that each of them find love and happiness and lives that meet up to their potential.

GG: What would you do if you won the lottery?

RH: I would love to purchase a large, remote property with lots of forest, located in conjunction with a river or lake, with lots of wildlife for my family and I to enjoy for years to come. A place to make more memories with my family, teach my grandchildren how to hunt and fish, and to love the outdoors; maybe even retire there one day.
