R2 JUMPMaster MONTHLY 1-DAY JUMPMaster PREPARATION COURSE

General Course Objectives

This course is designed to help Soldiers who are preparing to attend the 3-week Jumpmaster Course in two ways:

- (1) To help them learn mental and emotional strategies to maximize performance and stress during the 3-week course. Especially dealing with the stress and pressure of passing JMPI.
- (2) To be introduced to brain and learning science, study hacks, and test taking strategies; to help them refine their study strategies so they can excel during the academic portions of the JM course.

Ideally this course is run and attended 1-2 weeks prior to attendance in the 3-week JM Course

*This course will NOT attempt to teach/practice the actual JMPI sequence as this course is instructed by human performance specialists and not black-hat instructors.

**If students are unable to attend these course dates, but are still interested in preparing for Jumpmaster, we can offer one-on-one mastery training that covers similar topics but is focused on individual needs and goals. To sign up for mastery training follow the same procedures as below.

***Units may also request additional training dates to accommodate their Paratroopers.

Required Materials

- (1) Digital or physical copy of the Jumpmaster Student Study Guide (NOTE: These supplies will not be provided by the Ready and Resilient Performance Center)
- (2) All relevant personal equipment that you will bring to the Jumpmaster Course.
- (3) Note taking material.

This 1-Day course is a standard 0800-1700 day with a one-hour lunch break.

R2 Jumpmaster Preparation Course Attendance

All Paratroopers who are preparing to attend the Jumpmaster Course are welcome to attend. This is not an ATRRS course; attendance is allocated on a first come first serve basis.

- (1) Please call (910) 908-4459 to sign up
- (2) Location: R2 Performance Center, 1 All-American Way, Gavin Hall, Room 160
