Fort Hunter Liggett Fire Update

FORT HUNTER LIGGETT, Calif. – There is currently no imminent threat to the Fort Hunter Liggett (FHL) cantonment area or to personnel, residents, and families living or working on the installation. The Plaskett Fire has penetrated western training areas adjacent to FHL. Expect increased emergency vehicle traffic in support of fire operations.

Current weather conditions are favorable for wildfire mitigation efforts. FHL is strengthening firebreaks, working alongside the Incident Management Team, and providing personnel, heavy equipment, and space for a fire base camp.

Road Closures & Strict Access Warnings
No change in road closures. Area residents not under county evacuation orders may still access their property through Fort Hunter Liggett using Mission Road as thoroughfare. To prevent impeding fire and emergency response operations, the public should avoid the fire areas. Security personnel are in place to restrict nonessential travel along Nacimiento-Ferguson Road and Del Venturi Road where it intersects Mission Road.

- Nacimiento-Ferguson Road: CLOSED between Highway 1 to Mission Road; Area residents may continue to access
- Del Venturi Road: CLOSED to public until further notice; residents may continue to access.
- Highway 1: CLOSED along a 45-mile stretch of the Big Sur coast in California due to the Timber and Plaskett fires.

Prepare

Members of the public and the FHL community should review their emergency plans, confirm contact information is current, and know where to go if Monterey County issues an evacuation order for their area.
