Fort George G. Meade Logo

Adopted in 2019, the Fort Meade Logo is a visual representation of the installation's transformation from a rally point for troops heading to Europe more than 100 years ago to a 21st-century Power Projection Platform.

Fort Meade continues to evolve toward its future as part of the multi-domain operations concept for America's fighting force. Now the home of the nation's tenth and newest Combatant Command – U.S. Cyber Command – along with the National Security Agency, the Defense Information Systems Agency/ Joint Force Headquarters-Department of Defense Information Network, the Marine Cryptologic Support Battalion, the Air Force's 70th Intelligence, Surveillance and Reconnaissance Wing, the Navy's Cryptologic Warfare Group 6, the Space Force, the Defense Media Activity and 120 other tenant organizations on the installation, Fort Meade is the Nation's Premier Platform for Intelligence, Information and Cyber Operations.

The logo helps illustrate Fort Meade's efforts to address the future needs of a rapidly changing and growing community and to exemplify the vision that makes Fort Meade one of the nation's installations of choice. Fort Meade has grown into the second largest Army installation in the U.S. in terms of population and the largest employer in the state of Maryland.

The image of the sword on the logo represents the enduring symbol of military strength. The lightning bolt represents the communication, electronics, and information technology fields. The key represents the security and intelligence fields.

The stars represent the six branches of the U.S. military, including the Space Force, each of which has service members at Fort Meade. The globe represents the installation's worldwide mission. The green color of the globe represents that Fort Meade is an Army installation, and the purple color of the atmosphere represents the joint nature of the work done here, with all branches working in concert in national defense.

Within the inner white-gray circle there is some computer encryption which are not random numbers but have meaning to what Fort Meade is all about as it continues its growth in serving the defense of the United States.

The logo was designed by the former Fort's Visual Information Chief, Benjamin Rogers.

WELCOME

Welcome to the Nation's Platform for Intelligence, Information and Cyber Operations – Fort George G. Meade, Maryland!

Rooted in its distinguished past, which began in 1917, Fort Meade is now focused on its role as a 21st-century power projection platform. As a garrison, our mission is to provide required services, infrastructure, a safe and secure community, and a quality of life that supports mission readiness and the Fort Meade community.

Fort Meade is the Army's second largest installation by population with more than 64,000 employees that represent the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines, Coast Guard and Space Force. Fort Meade's more than 120 partner agencies include the DoD's newest Combatant Command - US Cyber Command, part of the newest military service the US Space Force, as well as the National Security Agency, DISA/JFH DODIN Combatant Command – U.S. Space Force, U. S. Cyber Command – the National Security Agency, Defense Information Systems Agency/Joint Forces Headquarters for the Department of Defense Information Network, Defense Media Activity, and several non-DoD agencies including the Environmental Protection Agency and Architect of the Capitol.

"Forward Meade"

The military has focused resources on readiness, modernization and ensuring that service members and units have the tools they need to win the nation's wars in the "multi-domain fight", including in the cyber domain. Moving Fort Meade units "forward" are key elements in the effort to harden the nation's networks and protect our cyber infrastructure.

Infrastructure in the form of road construction and improvements, access control point improvements, and building construction and renovation are on-going on and around Fort Meade. These improvements support the warfighter by improving security, enhancing quality of life, strengthening family support, and changing the face of Fort Meade as we move forward to the next century of strategic service.

Fort Meade leadership knows that to meet its vision as the Nation's Platform for Intelligence, Information and Cyber Operations, attracting and retaining a talented, diverse, and educated workforce is essential. Fort Meade and its partner units work closely with the Anne Arundel and Howard County school systems as well as with the University Systems of Maryland and our renowned community colleges to develop curriculum that prepares today's workforce while developing and investing in tomorrow's pioneers. Fort Meade is home to seven Anne Arundel County schools to include three International Baccalaureate schools – Manor View Elementary, MacArthur Middle and Meade High. All our schools provide enhanced courses in science, technology, engineering and mathematics, or STEM. Meade High also has a Homeland Security

Signature program. Our school liaison office works closely with the state's educators to ensure our students receive the foundation of learning they need to maximize the opportunities they deserve.

Fort Meade also works closely with Maryland's State Highway Administration and other transportation agencies to find convenient, affordable transportation options. In 2019, the Maryland Transit Association put on route the Crofton Connector as a shuttle service to connect the Odenton MARC station with Fort Meade. In June 2018, we began a relationship with LYFT to ensure Fort Meade riders are picked up by drivers with complete background checks that allow them access to the Installation.

Beyond that, Fort Meade continues to work with state and county employment organizations as well as the local chambers of commerce to ensure our family members can take advantage of the quality job opportunities in this growing region. Fort Meade has developed a regional partnership with Anne Arundel County and Howard County Workforce Development Offices that help family members find quality employment throughout the region. The Fort also hosts several job-fairs every year and works with the nearby Arundel Mills Mall to help our younger community members get full-time and seasonal work.

Fort Meade is conveniently located between Washington, D.C. and Baltimore. The Installation lies approximately five miles east of Interstate 95 and a half-mile east of the Baltimore-Washington Parkway, between Maryland State Routes 175, 32 and 198 and is situated in Anne Arundel County near the communities of Odenton, Piney Orchard, Laurel, Columbia, and Jessup. More than 12,000 service members and their family members reside on post. Fort Meade is Maryland's largest single employer and has a major economic impact on the region and the state.

Temperatures range from 30 degrees Fahrenheit in the winter, to 85+ degrees Fahrenheit in the summer. During wintertime, snowfall can be between 4 – 10 inches. Springtime brings high winds and moderate thunderstorms. Summers are moderately hot and humid. Autumn is typically pleasant, with temperatures as high as the mid-70's.

Fort Meade is virtually a city in itself. It consists of 5,067 acres with 65.5 miles of paved roads, 3.3 miles of secondary roads and approx. 1,300 buildings. There are three chapels, seven Anne Arundel County public schools, a credit union, post office, Post Exchange mall, and many other facilities. Whatever your interests — crafts, sports, recreation — all are available at Fort Meade.

In addition to the many recreational activities available on Fort Meade, the region itself is full of interesting places to visit. You can tour the historical sites of Annapolis and Baltimore, visit the monuments and the Smithsonian Institution in our nation's capital, or attend a football, basketball, hockey, or baseball game hosted by one of the many professional and college teams in the Maryland, District of Columbia, and Northern Virginia areas.

This guide was prepared to help the Fort Meade newcomers but can also be a valuable resource to long-time residents and employees. Use it often to find information, including telephone numbers, addresses and websites of the offices and facilities on Fort Meade. We hope your stay here will be enjoyable and your tour of duty professionally rewarding.

Getting Started on Fort Meade

The DoD has protocol for public health emergencies, and they're known as health protection conditions – HPCONs. Commanders review and update these HPCONs based on risk levels within a local community and in cooperation with local, state or host nation guidance. Military leaders and public health personnel use them to guide actions taken in response to a health threat.

Here are the DoD's five HPCON levels and what actions they may require:

- When the HPCON is 0, or "Routine," maintain your everyday actions to stop the spread of germs:
- Avoid close contact with people who are sick.
- Wash your hands often and for at least 20 seconds with soap and water.
- Cover your cough or sneeze with a tissue, then throw it in the trash. Cough or sneeze into your elbow if tissues are unavailable.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth.
- Practice a good diet and exercise.
- Make sure all immunizations are up-to-date, including your seasonal flu shot.

When the HPCON is A, or "Alpha," there's a limited health alert. Maintain your routine actions but also:

- Routinely clean and disinfect frequently touched objects and surfaces.
- If you're sick, call your medical provider for instructions on receiving care before going to a clinic or hospital. Make sure your installation leadership is aware of the symptoms of your health threat.
- Stay informed by routinely checking reliable sources of information such as the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and your local public health agencies.

When the HPCON is B, or "Bravo," your area is experiencing an increase in community transmissions. Follow previous HPCON instructions and:

- Practice social distancing. Avoid unnecessary contact with others such as, shaking hands and hugging.
- Avoid unnecessary travel, especially to areas known to be experiencing active disease transmission.
- Ensure supplies of food, medication and other items needed for babies and pets are available to last at least 14 days.
- Prepare for travel restrictions and cancellation of public gatherings such as school, religious and other community activities. Make alternative arrangements for childcare.

- Observe local guidance on movement restrictions and access requirements for military installations.
- Seek guidance from employers and unit leaders about changes to work practices (i.e. telework) and training events.
- Comply with medical orders for self-isolation or quarantine.

When the HPCON is C, or "Charlie," your area is experiencing sustained community transmission. Follow all previous HPCON instructions and:

- Expect cancellation of in-person gatherings, like school, daycare, and community activities, as well as restricted ability to travel.
- Plan activities for family members, especially children, in case you are restricted to your home for prolonged periods of time.
- Prepare for potential limited access to supplies and services, including severely restricted access to military installations.
- Implement remote work procedures as directed by your employer.
- If outside the U.S., authorized or ordered departure actions may be implemented.

When the HPCON is D, or "Delta," your area is experiencing severe, widespread community transmission. Follow all previous HPCON instructions and:

- Expect to remain at home for extended periods of time as movement in the community may be restricted. At-home isolation or quarantine may be directed.
- Follow all directives and guidance from local, state and federal authorities; they are enacted to protect the health and safety of you and your family.

Regardless of the HPCON level, always follow the guidance from your installation and local public health agencies.

This guide presents information about the Installation and the services available consistent with a normal operating picture that has services available during the time when people would normally expect them to be open to patrons.

Digital Meade will continue to provide up-to-date and current information regarding community services. You are encouraged to stay alert to the information presented in Digital Meade and the installation's social media platforms before your visit to the service provider on the installation. ★

Fort Meade History

Named for Civil War Hero

Originally called Camp Meade, the base was authorized by an Act of Congress in May 1917 as one of 16 cantonments built for troops drafted for World War I. The present Maryland site was selected June 23, 1917 because of its proximity to three railroads, Baltimore's ports, and Washington, D.C. The cost for construction was $18 million, and the land sold for $37 per acre in 1917. More than 15,000 men were involved in the construction of 1200 wooden buildings that housed more than 400,000 men who deployed through the camp on their way to France. In addition to troops, Camp Meade included a remount station which held 12,000 horses, mules, and a blacksmith school. The 5,400 acres of land on which Fort Meade sits was originally owned by Maj. Samuel Snowden, a Revolutionary War hero. Camp Meade was named in honor of Maj. Gen. George Gordon Meade, whose victory at the Battle of Gettysburg in 1863 proved a major factor in turning the tide of the Civil War in favor of the North.

World War I

In addition to men and horses, Camp Meade included three infantry divisions, three training battalions and one depot brigade. The "Hello Girls"—women who served as bilingual telephone-switchboard operators in the U.S. Army Signal Corps during World War I—were also an important part of Fort Meade's history. They were some of the first women to serve as uniformed members of the Army—24 years before the Women's Army Corps was established. In 1928, the post was designated Fort Leonard Wood, but Pennsylvania congressmen, angry at having the name of native son George Meade removed, held up Army appropriations until the Army agreed to name the new permanent installation Fort George G. Meade, which it did on March 5, 1929.

Tank Corps Joe

Around 1923, the famed tank-riding dog, Old Joe, befriended Soldiers who manned the 66th Infantry's light tanks. Joe became the 66th Infantry's official pet by order of the commanding officer of Fort Meade and acquired fame by becoming the Army's only tank-riding dog. Joe died in 1937 at the post hospital. The entire 66th Infantry honored Joe with a military formation and a procession of tanks. Military trucks escorted Joe to a grave near one of the tank parks.

World War II

Fort Meade became a training center during World War II, and its ranges and other facilities were used by more than 200 units and approximately 3.5 million Soldiers between 1942 and 1946. The wartime peak of military personnel at Fort Meade was 70,000 in March 1945.

Fort Meade was home to many services. The Cooks and Bakers School supplied bread for the entire post—approximately 20,000 people, including families. In 1942, the Third Service Command opened the Special Services Unit Training Center, where Soldiers were trained in all phases of the entertainment field. Entertainers, musicians, and others involved in the entertainment industry, including swing-band leader Glenn Miller, served in Special Services.

Fort Meade was also home to a number of German and Italian prisoners of war. In September 1943, a group of 1,632 Italian and 58 German prisoners arrived at Fort Meade. Some of those prisoners died during captivity and were buried on the installation.

Post World War II

With the conclusion of World War II, Fort Meade reverted to peacetime activities. One key post-World War II event at Fort Meade was the transfer from Baltimore, on June 15, 1947, of the Second U.S. Army Headquarters. This transfer brought an acceleration of post activity because Second Army Headquarters exercised command over Army units throughout a seven-state area. A second important development occurred Jan. 1, 1966, when the Second U.S. Army merged with First U.S. Army. The consolidated headquarters moved from Fort Jay, NY to Fort Meade to administer activities of Army installations in a 15-state area.

Middle Eastern Conflicts

In August 1990, Fort Meade began processing Army Reserve and National Guard units from several states for the presidential call-up in support of Operation Desert Shield. In addition to processing Reserve and Guard units, Fort Meade sent two of its own active-duty units—the 85th Medical Battalion and the 519th Military Police Battalion—to Saudi Arabia. In all, approximately 2,700 personnel from 42 units deployed from Fort Meade during Operation Desert Shield/Desert Storm.

Post 9/11

After the events of September 11, 2001, like all military installations across the country and the world, the Army instituted increased security measures. Roads once used as shortcuts through the installation were closed. Gate guards and changed entry procedures made the installation less accessible. Despite these changes, Fort Meade continues to hold job fairs and other major events to which the public is welcomed. In addition, Fort Meade Soldiers, Sailors, Airmen and Marines are deployed to far corners of the world to provide support to the War on Terror on multiple fronts. ★

Community Partnerships

As Maryland's largest employer, standing at 64,000 strong, Fort Meade is an economic engine and with it, comes an impact on not only the state and region – but the communities in which our service members, civilians and families live.

Fort Meade and our friends in the community outside of the fence line work together for the betterment of our service members, families and civilians who live and/or work on the installation. One key relationship is the Fort Meade Community Covenant Council, which focuses on collaborating and combining resources to fill the gaps so service members, civilians and families have a supportive community.

In addition to Fort Meade's local and federally elected officials, including the governor of Maryland, the Community Covenant Council is made up of many supportive civic and business organizations including: Anne Arundel Community College, Anne Arundel Public Library, The BWI Business Partnership, the Fort Meade Alliance, and the Central Maryland Chamber of Commerce.

Fort Meade and the Fort Meade Alliance, a member of the Community Covenant Council, won the 2019 Army Community Partnership award for the Kuhn Hall project. The FMA is gifting Fort Meade the more than $3 million renovation of Kuhn Hall into an education and resiliency center. This center puts resources and services in one place and provides access to mental health professionals in a setting we hope will help erase the stigma of seeking help.

This year, the Covenant will be focusing its efforts on bringing the community together around the newly renovated Meade High. This $120M project is scheduled to be completed in September 2024. The Covenant's goal is to use this state-of-the-art facility to highlight all of the great programs and opportunities in the entire Meade High Cluster.

Kuhn Hall - Education and Resiliency Center At Fort Meade

Fort Meade, as well as many Army installations around the country, has developed a resiliency campus to promote the concept of Comprehensive Soldier Fitness and provide hands-on training and support to Soldiers, family members and DA civilians.

It took 11 years of planning, a $5.1 million fundraising campaign, meticulous processing of an 800-item requirements list and extensive collaboration with six garrison commanders, numerous on-post agencies and innumerable community members to transform Fort George G. Meade's historic Kuhn Hall into a modern Education and Resiliency Center.

The Fort Meade Alliance, Fort Meade Alliance Foundation, the U.S. Army, and the Fort George G. Meade Garrison embarked on a significant partnership to establish a Resiliency Campus for the service personnel, their families, and civilians at the Installation. The plan included the renovation of Kuhn Hall and its conversion into the Education and Resiliency Center, which will serve as the hub of information, programming, and services, providing a much-needed resource for the Fort Meade community.

"The partnership and fortitude of the Garrison, the Fort Meade Alliance, the FMA Foundation and the community — which began in 2011 — could not have been stronger as we progressed through requirements, design, fundraising, construction and now the official opening of this vital center," said Deon Viergutz, FMA Foundation President. "The Education and Resiliency Center will connect and enrich the Fort Meade Installation by providing an integrated system of care that will help our greatest resource – our people."

The DoD community has long known that its most important asset is its people – service members, military family members, military retirees, veterans and DoD civilians. As the Nation's center for intelligence, information and cyber operations, Fort George G. Meade leadership is acutely aware that mission readiness is only possible with a superior team of people who can endure the rigors and challenges of a demanding profession and who are supported by their families and community.

"The people of this community - whether service member, family member, civilian, or retiree - are the foundation of everything," said Col. Michael A. Sapp, Fort Meade Garrison Commander. "As such, it is imperative they are provided an environment that enriches their wellbeing. Kuhn Hall affords the community with versatile space and the services to help us all navigate and cope with the stressors of daily life."

The goal of Fort Meade's resiliency campus is building strong, healthy service members, families, and civilians.

That mission is accomplished through a combination of military and civilian agencies that work together to enhance the strength of all things spiritual, emotional, social, family, and physical within individuals.

The Fort Meade Resiliency Shield was designed by the Fort Meade Alliance, in partnership with the Fort Meade Community Health Promotion Council. The logo was created as part of an effort to assist the Fort Meade community in identifying resiliency programs and facilities throughout the Installation. The Fort Meade Resiliency Shield is a combination of individual shields that support the five pillars of resiliency – Family, Emotional, Physical, Spiritual and Social.

U.S. Army Garrison

Fort Meade's structure is provided by the U.S. Army Installation Management Command (IMCOM) through the Army Material Command, which oversees all facets of installation operations—construction, family care, food management, environmental programs, morale and well-being programs, public works, and installation funding.

The Military District of Washington (MDW) provides the installations that are within its region real-time guidance, direction, and resources, and responds to installation management requirements.

Fort Meade mirrors the visions of both IMCOM and MDW to ensure quality of life for those who live, work, and play on the installation. Improving everyday life for the community and customers of Fort Meade is critical to providing a safe and secure environment. The installation is constantly improving its installation infrastructure and facilities, technology, and environment to meet expanding mission requirements.

Installation Management Command

IMCOM, a single organization headquartered in San Antonio under the U.S. Army Materiel Command, is organized to manage U.S. Army Installations at home and abroad.

IMCOM was launched to meet a number of objectives: implement a standardization process so that Soldiers and families can count on quality, consistent and uniform services at all installations; streamline how installations receive money and ensure installation funds are used for installation services (as opposed to combat training or other missions); relieve warfighters and mission commanders of installation-related tasks so that they can focus on combat training and tactical-related issues; and support mission readiness and execution.

Military District of Washington

MDW is a leadership extension of IMCOM and provides realtime guidance, direction and assistance to Army Garrisons located in the region.

The mission of the regional office is to guide, direct, enable and oversee assigned garrisons; assess and convey resource requirements to IMCOM; and respond to installation management requirements. MDW also acts as a command-and-control headquarters relative to all base operations, functions, contingency operations and crisis management operations.

MDW reviews and oversees resource allocations, interfaces with major commands and other services, and implements IMCOM policies and programs. MDW also interacts with congressional delegations when necessary.

administrative and logistical support to several partner units. The Soldiers of Headquarters Company are committed to sustaining the highest state of readiness and providing the highest quality of service. # A New Way For Community Connection: Fort Meade Participates In “My Army Post” Pilot

To offer service members a one-stop solution for information about the Army installations where they serve, the Army developed a new app called My Army Post. Fort Meade participated in the pilot and leads with way with this innovated resource.

U.S. Army leaders first showcased the application during the annual AUSA Conference in October 2023. Since then, 20 installations are participating in the app.

The Fort Meade My Army Post application offers resources for all service members, families and community partners on and around the installation. This includes gate times, events, resources and more.

ASWF product designers Maj. Benjamin Schiff and Cpt. Tavia Clark visited Fort Meade in January of 2024 to gather real-time feedback from Fort Meade's diverse community, including Soldiers, Marines, Sailors, Airmen, civilians, and family members. In addition, the team received input from Fort Meade directorates on what services should be highlighted on the application.

“Users providing feedback is integral to app development and how we ensure that we are creating something that users would want to use and find value in,” said Clark. “By providing feedback, it allows our team to gather different perspectives, needs, and preferences that allows us to continually improve and iterate to ensure a well-developed and reliable application for large scale roll out.”

With the support of the Fort Meade community, U.S. Army Communications Electronics Command (CECOM) updates and improves the My Army Post application.

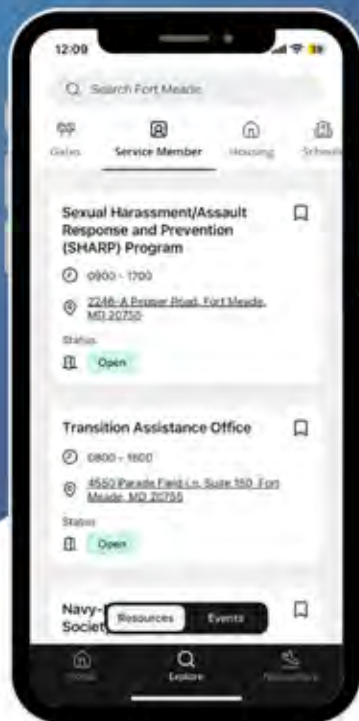

The My Army Post application offers real-time updates on gate openings and closings, traffic flow information, financial insights, school details, fitness resources, dining options, job opportunities, housing information, and more. Fort Meade is working directly with CECOM and IMCOM to develop new features for the application based on community feedback.

U.S. Army Claims Service

Bldg. 4411 Llewellyn Avenue
Command Group: 301-677-9076
Administration: 301-677-9502

The U.S. Army Claims Service (USARCS) was established in 1963 to accompany the significant expansion of legal rights for those who experienced injury, death, or property damage or loss due to the official actions of Army employees. A Fort Meade tenant unit since 1971, USARCS’s primary mission is to oversee the Army claims program worldwide.

Led by active-duty military personnel, with a staff of approximately 35 civilian attorneys, investigators and other claims professionals, USARCS goal is to promptly and fairly review claims by and against the Army, paying those which are meritorious, denying those which are not, and recovering funds expended by the Army because of the wrongful acts of third parties.

For example, when an Army driver is involved in a vehicle accident, Army claims personnel at the local Army installation or at USARCS investigate and determine whether the Army driver was at fault and whether settlement of a property damage and/or personal injury claim is warranted. Likewise, where the Army property is damaged or its personnel must be hospitalized because of the fault of others, Army claims personnel attempt to recover the costs.

Claims examiners at the Army’s Center for Personnel Claims Support (a subordinate organization of USARCS) at Fort Knox, KY, review and adjudicate claims filed by Army personnel for incident to service damage.

By fulfilling its mission, USARCS saves the Army and the taxpayer the time and expense of litigation and promotes an important morale-building function for Army personnel and their families.

Army Family Team Building Program

AFTB is about adapting to military life as a single Soldier, military spouse, unit commander, retiree or Department of Defense civilian. AFTB offers three types of courses:

The program offers a variety of parenting support programs, including home visitation services for families of young children, educational workshops, support groups and a play group for young children. FAP programs and classes include topics such as communication, conflict management, stress management, the dynamics of family violence and parenting. Short-term childcare is available to eligible families who participate in mandated programs.

Exceptional Family Member Program

The Exceptional Family Member Program (EFMP) is a mandatory Department of the Army enrollment program for active duty service members that provides comprehensive and coordinated community support, housing, educational, medical and personnel services for those military families with special needs.

Soldiers on active duty enroll in the program when a family member has a physical, emotional, developmental or intellectual condition that requires specialized services. The Army defines an exceptional family member as any family member, regardless of age, who has a disability that limits that individual's ability to function daily, and requires ongoing counseling, training, education, therapy or treatment.

The family member's needs are then taken into consideration in the military personnel assignment process. Soldiers are responsible for keeping their EFMP enrollment updated as the exceptional family member's condition changes, or every three years, whichever comes first. The EFMP program can also assist eligible family members of retired Soldiers, Department of the Army civilians, Army National Guard and U.S. Army Reserve Soldiers.

Community Information Program

The Community Information Program provides commanders, service members and families with comprehensive information regarding military and civilian community resources.

Hearts Apart Deployment Support Group

The Hearts Apart Deployment Support Group provides support to families who have loved ones serving away from home.

The group meets monthly and has members from all military branches as well as DoD civilians. The group also runs a "Hand-in-Hand" program, a deployment support group that travels to area schools to support children whose parents are deployed. Community members are invited to connect with other families while learning about managing separation.

Survivor Outreach Services (SOS) demonstrates the Army's commitment to the families of fallen soldiers by providing support services. Financial counselors provide assistance to surviving families through investment and estate planning education and counseling. The SOS support coordinator functions as long-term support for survivors by facilitating support groups, providing life skills education and connecting survivors with valuable resources.

Military and Family Life Counselor

The Military and Family Life Counselor supports senior commanders and works directly with Army Community Service, Child and Youth Services, National Guard Headquarters and Reserve Regional Command to provide deployment and reintegration support to Soldiers and their families. The family life counselor provides short-term problem solving, non-medical counseling services to cope with the military lifestyle.

Fort Meade Army Housing Office and Corvias Military Living are the partners of Meade Communities LLC – the RCI partnership.

The AHO team represents both the Army and the residents in privatized military housing. The responsibilities of the Army Housing Office are to be a link between Corvias and the Army, aid in the transition of privatized family housing into the Army culture and act as an ombudsman for military service members and their families who have unresolved concerns.

Corvias provides on-post housing options for military families, unaccompanied military, military retirees and federal civilian employees. Please note all unaccompanied soldiers in the rank of private through sergeant require a certificate of non-availability to live with Corvias or off-post.

Unaccompanied Housing Office

6405 Simmonds Road

301-677-4783/2458/2174

Monday - Friday: 7:30a.m. - 4:30p.m.

Fort Meade offers permanent party living spaces for more than 1,500 single service members, specifically designed for those in the E1-E5 ranks, spread across two housing areas: Freedom Center Barracks and 9800 Campus Barracks. Single service members within these ranks should get in touch with their unit's barracks managers to acquire assignment details. In situations where barracks space is unavailable, Certificates of Non-Availability (CAN) will be issued by the Garrison Commander upon unit commander requests for Soldiers. Members from other branches should follow the CAN process outlined by their respective units.

For service members assigned to DINFOS in a "Trainee Status," barracks assignment and relevant information can be obtained through their respective Service Detachment. It's crucial to note that Fort Meade does not provide Army-provided permanent party unaccompanied officer or senior noncommissioned officer housing. Additionally, short-term housing is not an option for service members on Temporary Duty (TDY) residing in permanent party barracks spaces.

Potomac Place & Patriot Ridge Community

998 Second Corps Boulevard
410-672-2981
Potomac.Place@corvias.com

Potomac Place was named for the Army of the Potomac commanded by General George G. Meade. Corvias and the Army's very first, and largest, Community Center was built here in 2003 and offers nearly all the benefits and amenities any resident could need. The family-friendly center features a half-court basketball gym, fitness center, game room and even a children's library.

New and renovated homes for junior NCO, senior NCO, company-grade and field-grade officers have been designed with input and recommendations from Fort Meade families. Potomac Place showcases all styles of homes including Craftsman, Colonial, Urban, Eclectic and Seaside architectural and interior design schemes. Each style reflects a type of home you might find in various parts of Maryland. Nearby, you'll find the Commissary, Post Exchange, Post gas station and Manor View Elementary School.

Continuing Fort Meade's historic tribute, Patriot Ridge was named to pay homage to the Revolutionary War and the establishment of the United States. Appropriately, the home styles in Patriot Ridge feature Colonial-style architectural accents.

Home to junior and senior NCOs, this neighborhood has play areas, walking paths and tennis courts. For easy on and off-post traveling, Patriot Ridge is centrally located between the Rockenbach and Reece Road gates. The teen center and two of the child development centers make this location convenient and fun for the whole family. Patriot Ridge is also close to Meade High School and McArthur Middle School.

Along with the standard amenities in each Community Center, Midway also offers a Wii Café and game room for residents and fun for the whole family. Stop by and challenge a neighbor to a round of Wii Tennis!

Home to single-family, one-level ranch homes and townhomes, Midway serves all rank bands. Homes in Midway Common are Urban-style, reminiscent of a traditional family-oriented community. Located closest to Pershing Hill elementary school and the National Security Agency (NSA), Midway Common offers convenient living at its best.

Heritage Park & Normandy Bluffs

2699 Ninninger Avenue
410-672-2000
Heritage.Park@corvias.com

Heritage Park is dedicated to the history of Fort George G. Meade. The neighborhood features some of the post's uniquely beautiful historic homes and cottages, originally built in the 1930s. Corvias works very closely with the Maryland historical society to preserve the integrity of the historical homes while renovating the interiors to provide residents with all of the updated necessities and touches of homes you'll find in our newer housing. As an added bonus, these historical homes are accompanied by Heritage Park's Community Center, which offers a movie theater-style media room for residents to enjoy.

These charming homes and cottages are some of the most popular on post and serve our junior NCOs, company-grade officers, senior-grade officers and general and flag officer residents.

In 2008, 139 junior NCO townhomes were completed. Heritage Park is the closest neighborhood to Burba Lake, the movie theater, the library and the post chapel. It's also conveniently located next to the Commissary, PX and post office.

Normandy Bluffs is an extension of the Heritage Park Neighborhood.

Normandy Bluffs is named for one of the most wellknown battles of World War II in the European Theater—the Battle of Normandy.

Normandy features 115 junior NCO townhomes with garages. This neighborhood offers fenced yards with sheds and is conveniently located to main roads, I-295, Route 175 and Route 32, making it close to on and offpost shopping and amenities. 301-677-1227/1749

Monday – Friday: 8:00a.m. – 4:30p.m.

School Support Services and School Liaison works under Child and Youth Services partnering with area school communities addressing educational issues involving children of military families.

By partnering with local, state and military communities, the school liaison can access a wide variety of resources to help with issues concerning student transition and educational needs.

The school liaison acts as a link between the installation and the surrounding school districts. School Support Services advocates for military families in a variety of areas within the school system to include home school and special-needs children.

Public Schools

Seven county public schools are located on Fort Meade. The schools are governed by the Anne Arundel County School administration and are not Department of Defense Dependent System schools.

School Buses

Passing a school bus when it is stopped or reducing speed for the purpose of receiving or discharging passengers is prohibited. Vehicles must stop a full 10 feet to the front or rear of the school bus and remain stopped until the bus resumes motion or the flashing red lights are turned off.

Pre-Kindergarten & Kindergarten Registration

Children who live in Maryland and will be 5 years old on or before Sept. 1 are required to attend kindergarten and must register at their assigned school.

The pre-kindergarten program in Anne Arundel County public elementary schools selects 4-year-olds based on economic and education need. If applying due to economic need, proof of family income will be required.

When registering a child for pre-kindergarten or kindergarten, parents must bring the following:

- Child's original birth certificate or birth record;
- Copy of child's immunization record;
- Two proofs of residency (rental agreement, current phone bill, etc.);
- School records (hand-carried records are accepted); and
- Social Security card is requested but not required.

If applying for pre-kindergarten due to economic need, verification of total combined household income (W-2 and 1040 statements with one current pay stub) is required. If these documents are not available, bring three current paycheck stubs for each person employed as well as documentation relating to any additional source of income (including child support, Temporary Cash Assistance and rental income). Child and Youth (CYS) Services of the DFMWR provides program options for eligible children and youth ages 4 weeks to 18 years. Its mission is to enhance service member readiness and well-being by reducing the conflict between parental responsibilities and Soldier mission requirements.

Parent Central Services

Monday - Thursday: 8:00a.m. - 4:30p.m.

Closed: 12:00p.m. - 12:45p.m.

Contact Parent Central Services to register for all CYS offerings. The CYS program is composed of center-based and quarters-based child and youth development programs, sports and fitness programs, instructional class programs, education support services and outreach services. Active duty military personnel, Department of Defense civilians, reservists and National Guard Soldiers on active duty status and DoD contractors working on post are eligible for child and youth services. Parents or guardians are requested to bring proper identification, child's birth certificate, Social Security number and an up-to-date shot record at the time of registration.

Call or visit Parent Central Services to register for all CYS programs.

Outreach Services are offered at Parent Central Services for all CYS programs, including on-site childcare for meetings and functions, teenage babysitter lists, parenting programs and information about off-post childcare.

Child Development Centers (CDC)

Four center-based programs on post provide childcare services for children ages 6 weeks through preschool. Three of the CDCs at Fort Meade have earned accreditation from the National Association of Education of Young Children, a rigorous voluntary process by which early childhood programs demonstrate that they meet national standards of excellence.

Programs seeking accreditation undergo an intensive selfstudy, collecting information from parents, teachers and administrators while conducting classroom observations.

Centers receive on-site visits conducted by early childhood professionals to validate the self-study results. A team of national experts who grant or defer accreditation independently reviews all information.

The best way to describe the curriculum is that it follows developmentally appropriate practices: a child-centered, child-initiated and teacher-supported program. The Creative Curriculum program allows for meaningful and long-lasting learning involving active thinking and experimenting to find out how things work. This is best accomplished through purposeful play facilitated by highly intentional teaching practices. The Strong Beginnings Pre-K is an Army initiative designed to prepare children for kindergarten. The program focuses on social and emotional development of children.

Staff members follow a primary care-giving philosophy in which a child is assigned to one staff member who observes and documents the child's interests, strengths and weaknesses and enhances the curriculum around these observations.

The goal is to develop an individualized program that will support school-ready children by enriching their learning experiences. The CDC strives to expose the children to the "Six Pillars of Character," (trustworthiness, respect, responsibility, fairness, care and citizenship) as well as promote the physical, social, emotional, cognitive and creative side of each child. CDC staff seeks to integrate these traits into everyday interactions between children and their parents.

Family Child Care Office (FCC)

4550 Parade Field Lane

301-677-1378

Monday - Friday: 7:30a.m. - 4:00p.m.

The Family Child Care Office (FCC) is a childcare option offered to eligible families through CYS Services. FCC is provided by military family members working as independent contractors in individual housing units located on the installation.

FCC providers have their programs listed in the FCC online system at the Parent Central Services office. All patrons wishing to use the FCC program must begin the registration process at Parent Central Services. Parents using FCC are eligible for fee assistance through the Fee Assistance Program in which the majority of providers participate.

Homes provide flexible hours, a comfortable family-like setting and activities based on life experiences in the home and neighborhood. In FCC, siblings can stay together, younger and older children learn from each other in a small group setting, and school-age children can remain in a neighborhood setting. Most homes offer full-day, part-day and hourly care. Special services may include 24-hour and long-term care during mobilization and training exercises, evening and weekend care and care for special-needs. The flexibility of FCC providers is an asset in meeting the diverse work hours of military families.

Parents of children enrolled in an FCC home can expect to receive the same quality of care as in a CDC or school-age program. FCC providers receive the same training and support as CYS Services facility-based staff. Each group of 25 to 40 providers is designated an FCC network with its own director and managed like a childcare center without walls.

The capacity of the FCC home is determined by the size of the home and the ages of the children enrolled in the home.

Generally, the capacity in an FCC home at any one time is six children, including the provider's own children who may be enrolled in the program. Homes serving infants and toddlers exclusively (children ages 4 weeks to 2 years) can serve a maximum of three children. Homes serving school-age children exclusively (children ages 5 to 12 years) can serve a maximum of eight children. If you are interested in becoming a provider, call the FCC office.

Youth Sports and School of Knowledge, Inspiration, Exploration and Skills (SKIES) Unlimited

4550 Parade Field Lane, 3rd Floor
301-677-5502 / 7968
Monday - Friday: 9:00a.m. - 5:30p.m.
(Hours may vary depending on programs.)

The Youth Sports and Fitness Program offers a variety of individual and team sports for ages 3 through 17, including T-ball, baseball, softball, track, clinic soccer, soccer, tackle football, cheerleading, basketball, swim team, NFL Flag Football, volleyball, lacrosse, sports tournaments, and sports skills clinics.

The Fort Meade Youth Sports program is one of the largest in the Army. The program emphasizes fun, fitness, and learning skills.

Volunteer coaches must attend training and be certified through the National Alliance of Youth Sports Coaches Certification Program.

The name SKIES Unlimited combines the acronym for “Schools of Knowledge, Inspiration, Exploration, and Skills” with the word Unlimited for the unlimited learning possibilities that this initiative offers military children and youth.

SKIES Unlimited provides the framework for instructional programming in the CYS Services System worldwide. It encompasses instructional programs for children and youth from infancy to adolescence (four weeks through the end of the senior year in high school). Through SKIES Unlimited, youth in programs have access to opportunities that expand their knowledge, inspire them, allow them to explore and acquire new skills.

Young people spend as much as 80 percent of their waking time outside the classroom. When involved in instructional programs during the critical hours of 3:00p.m. – 8:00p.m., studies show they are less likely to engage in undesirable behavior.

Instructional programs foster the development of critical life, leadership, and social skills. The latest educational research confirms that student’s involvement in after-school instructional programs is beneficial on all levels. Instructional programs have been shown to promote the intellectual development of children and youth.

The Armed Forces Wellness Center is a U.S. Army Medical Command Initiative overseen by the Preventive Medicine Services Division at Kimbrough Ambulatory Care Center.

The Armed Forces Wellness Center helps service members, retirees, their families, and DoD civilians build and sustain good health. It empowers them to set their own health goals and achieve them. It addresses lifestyle changes in areas that affect both short and long-term health, engaging people in their "life space" – the places where they live, work, relax and rest.

The Armed Forces Wellness Center provides a standardized core of health services: a health assessment review, which is an analysis of the patient's health status, risk for disease and ability to exercise safely; physical fitness testing and exercise prescription; healthy nutrition using metabolic testing to provide individualized strategies for weight loss, gain or maintenance; stress management using biofeedback to reduce stress; general wellness education through classes on topics such as healthy lifestyles, increased resiliency and self-care; and tobacco education using assessments to determine an individual's readiness to become tobacco-free.

Referrals can be made to the Armed Forces Wellness Center by medical providers or unit commanders. Self-referrals are always welcome and can be made by contacting the Armed Forces Wellness Center.
