Our Commendation

Good Grief!

Need to Bargain

Last week this newspaper sent a telegram of congratulations to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara for the decision made by the Department of Defense to lift the unfair and unwise restrictions imposed by the Eisenhower administration upon military families.

We hope that others from this locality did the same. All of us who travel abroad and who buy foreign products at home as well as abroad should have felt embarrassed at the discrimination of the United States government against its soldiers, sailors and airmen.

What the Department of Defense is now doing is to ask our service families overseas to act with restraint in their expenditures there. That is treating them as if they were not citizens of the United States. The government should treat all citizens overseas—a request for reasonable restraint in their expenditures until the gold balance is better redressed.

It appears to this editor that Monterey has approached the ridiculous (not for the first time, however) when its recreation director asks a state official, member of the state recreation commission staff, to advise the City of Monterey as to the best place for the location of a municipal swimming pool. GOOD GRIEF!

Monterey needs to look twice and think seriously about the advantage or disadvantage of the California Division of Beaches and Parks taking over Colton Hall.

The affairs of this division of the state are not under the same guardianship of the California Park Commission, that formerly existed. The legislature took authority away from the commission and, in effect, put it in the governor's pocket. The chain of command is from the Chief of the Division of Beaches and Parks to the Director of Natural Resources to the Governor. The park commission is now only advisory.

Moreover, the park commission isn't what it used to be. It is not only without authority, it is without the character it derived from the long and devoted chairmanship of California's most useful citizen, Joseph R. Knowland, publisher of the Oakland Tribune.

It is more obvious than ever that Monterey needs to bargain effectively if it is to let Colton Hall pass out of its hands.

Will the purists want to tear off the fine facade of Colton Hall and restore it to the far less eloquent building it was when Rev. Walter Colton built it? The beauty and impressiveness of the fine building would be lost if it were stripped.

Is the state desirous of trading the Monterey beach it finally purchased for Colton Hall? (Continued on page 6)

Kennedy Gold Program

Duty-free Imports By Tourists May Be Cut Down to $100

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today asked Congress to cut sharply the amount of foreign goods which American tourists can bring back to the United States without paying customs duties.

Kennedy proposed that the present $500 maximum be slashed to $100 in order to discourage tourists from buying costly souvenirs with dollars which foreigners could use to purchase American gold.

This was the most dramatic recommendation made by Kennedy in a 4,500 word special message on the gold problem which Kennedy said "justifies concern but not panic or alarm."

While the President had been expected to make a request of this sort, some were surprised by the extent of the proposed cut in the customs exemption.

May Cause Concern

The move was certain to cause concern in some countries, particularly Canada which entertains more American tourists than any other nation but which normally doesn't buy U.S. gold.

Most other major proposals represented attempts to place new emphasis on policies adopted earlier by the Eisenhower administration. For example, Kennedy promised new efforts to expand exports, attract foreign tourists, limit military spending abroad and channel foreign-aid dollars to American businessmen.

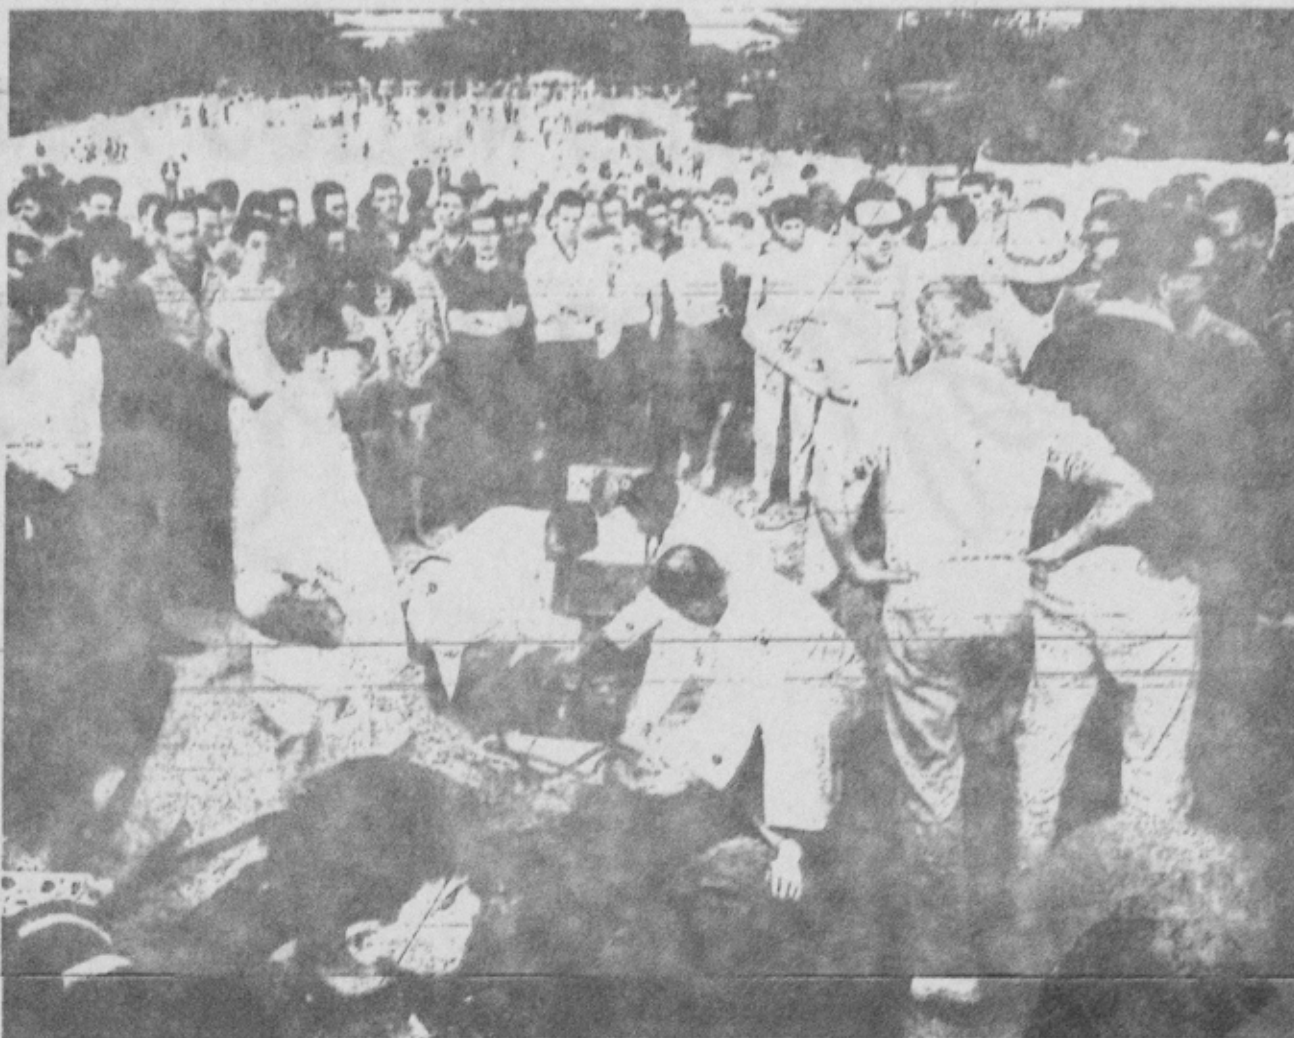

One new idea: that Congress permit banks to pay foreign governments and central banks a higher rate of interest than Americans receive on savings accounts. The maximum rate now is three per cent.

Kennedy said action along this line "would enable American banks to make a maximum competitive effort to attract and hold dollar balances which might otherwise be converted into gold."

The effect could be significant since the foreign deposits involved total about $3 billion.

Review World System

Kennedy also said the United States will seek an international review of the free world's monetary system, with the aim of ironing out (Continued on page 4)

Rig Bids, Prices Electric Companies Are Fined

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Six large electrical companies, General Electric and Westinghouse among them, were fined a total of $150,000 today on the first of 20 federal indictments charging bid rigging and price fixing in violation of antitrust laws.

J. H. Chiles, Pittsburgh, a Westinghouse vice president, and W. S. Ginn, Schenectady, N.Y., a General Electric vice president, each were given 30-day jail terms, one of the few times defendants were sentenced to jail in any antitrust case. Chiles also was fined $2,000; Ginn $5,000.

The six companies, Chiles and Ginn all pleaded guilty to this particular count.

'Shocking Indictment'
Chief Judge J. Cullen Ganey described the case involving 29 of the nation's biggest electrical firms as "a shocking indictment of a vast segment of our economy." He said the defendants "mocked the image" of the nation's free enterprise system.

General Electric and Westinghouse each received $40,000 fines on the first count, involving the sale of power transformer equipment. On the same count, Judge Ganey fined Allis-Chalmers $25,000; McGraw-Edison $20,000; Moloney Electric Co., $15,000 and Wagner Electric $10,000.

In his pre-sentencing remarks, Judge Ganey said those who guided the companies "bear a grave responsibility for what has happened. Accordingly heavy fines will be imposed on the companies."

Jail Terms

As for the individual defendants, Ganey said he would impose jail terms only (Continued on page 4)

Portugal Target Of Angola Riots

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Four persons were reported killed and seven wounded Sunday morning during new rioting in Luanda, capital of Portugal's West African territory of Angola.

Spokesmen for Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar's regime said modern Czechoslovak weapons were seized by police in Friday's clash.

The rioting was believed part of the same movement that resulted in hijacking of the Portuguese liner Santa Maria by a group of armed rebels on Jan. 22 after killing a ship's officer and wounding three other crewmen.

The Portuguese government sent its "thanks and sincere appreciation" for U.S. Air Force and naval cooperation in getting the Santa Maria away from Henrique Galvao and his little band and for Washington's attitude during the seizure.

Portugal also thanked Brazil, which turned over the liner to her regular captain Sunday, and praised newsmen for "enlightening world public opinion" on the real meaning of the Santa Maria's seizure.

Most of the Santa Maria's adventure-jaded American and European passengers were on their way home today. The Americans were due to arrive in Miami today, by plane.

Youth Lost In Rescue Attempt

Two Peninsula-based soldiers drowned in the ocean off Carmel Beach yesterday afternoon, one perishing as he swam to get aid for the other victim.

Pfc. David J. Bays, 20, of Fort Ord's 573rd Transportation Detachment was pronounced dead at Peninsula Community Hospital at 4:55 p.m.

The sea claimed another victim yesterday at Moss Landing where a Salinas man drowned when his skiff overturned. (See page 6).

Missing and presumed dead off Carmel is Pfc. Robert E. Lewis Jr., 21, an Army Language School student. A military helicopter was to resume a search for his body today.

Witnesses' Account

Witnesses gave civilian and military police this account:

Lewis and Pfc. Robert Simonson and Nicholas A. Niles were playing football on the beach at the foot of Ocean Avenue about 4 p.m. when they heard cries for help from approximately 100 yards out.

All three swam to Bays' side. Simonson began an attempt to pull Bays to shore, and Lewis and Niles headed for the beach to get help. Niles arrived at the beach and found that Lewis was missing. Skindivers went out to get Bays.

Coast Guardsmen and skindivers began a search for Lewis that lasted until dusk. Bays was given artificial respiration on the beach for about 45 minutes. He was taken to Peninsula Community Hospital in the Red Cross ambulance operated by the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department. He was pronounced dead there.

Swimming Alone

Bays, military police said, was swimming alone when he began his cries for help. Carmel police said two companions, William Blythe, 21, and Richard Schemel, 20, were unable to enlighten them on the circumstances.

The Carmel police report quoted them as saying "with so many people in the water (Continued on page 6)

New Storm in Midwest

By The Associated Press

Northeastern areas, stunned by one of the worst storms in history, struggled today to overcome the devastation of a weekend storm that buried the area under up to 40 inches of snow.

In the nation's midsection, a new storm headed northeastward after dumping up to eight inches of snow on portions of Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas and glazed nearby areas with freezing rain or sleet.

Back-to-work was the order of the day in New York City in the wake of the worst snowstorm in 13 years.

Subway cars and buses there were jammed because of an emergency order barring private automobiles from the streets. The Long Island Rail Road reported it was carrying almost three times the normal number of commuters. A spokesman said about 200,000 commuters were being transported today in contrast to the normal load of 80,000.

The city's two major airports, Idlewild and La Guardia resumed operations Sunday night after being closed since Friday, forcing cancellation of some 2,600 flights. The four major railroads operating out of the city hoped to be back on schedule after a day of operation without the semblance of a timetable.

In Rhode Island, officials called the storm the worst in at least 57 years.

Transportation, power and telephone services were being restored rapidly in New England. Some thawing was in prospect there.

The storm was blamed for almost 100 deaths.

FIFTH AVENUE—A couple rides up New York's snowy Fifth Avenue today in a horse-drawn sleigh, passing a snowbound car. Their outing on runners enabled them to beat Mayor Robert Wagner's ban on all non-emergency vehicles moving within the city limits.

Auto Registration Deadline Extended

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Department of Motor Vehicles says 1961 registrations may be made today without penalty.

The deadline was last Saturday, but because it fell on the weekend, it was extended through today at DMV offices and midnight tonight for mail.

Two Men Hurt When Car Skids Off Coast Road

Two San Leandro men suffered minor injuries at 1:15 p.m. yesterday when the car in which they were riding skidded off Highway 1, about one mile north of Point Sur, and rolled down a 250-foot cliff.

The driver, Robert Raymond Thornton, and passenger, William Frank Costa Jr., both of San Leandro, were taken to the Peninsula Community Hospital by Big Sur Ambulance.

The California Highway Patrol reported that apparently Thornton lost control of his northbound 1960 compact car on a curve. Skid marks from the car curved across the road. The vehicle tumbled off the road and into the dense underbrush and the men were thrown clear of the auto.

A Seaside man suffered minor injuries at 12:30 p.m. yesterday when his small foreign car left the Salinas-Monterey Highway, traveled down a 20-foot bank and through a barbed wire fence, coming to a halt in a field, the CHP reported.

Lost Control

2nd Lt. Richard Pierson Jr., who lives at 1346 Wanda St., Seaside, was taken to the Fort Ord Hospital by a friend. The CHP said Pierson apparently lost control of his westbound auto on a curve 3 of a mile east of San Benancio Canyon. The car tore down 30 feet of six-stranded barbed wire fence and two posts. Owner of the fence is Arthur Ferrini.

Three persons, including a 7-month-old infant, suffered minor injuries at 6 p.m. Saturday when the cars in which they were riding were involved in a rear-end collision on Lighthouse avenue, 40 feet north of Prescott avenue, in Monterey.

Mrs. Patricia Irene Sanchez and her infant son, Steven E. Sanchez, were taken to the Monterey Hospital by A-1 Ambulance. The boy suffered a fractured palate and cut upper lip and his mother had minor cuts on both knees and a cut lip. Mrs. Josephine N. Yonan of 162½ Evans Ave., Pacific Grove, suffered a minor whiplash injury to her neck and was taken to the same hospital by her husband, Monterey police said.

Police said Mrs. Yonan stopped her car to make a left turn and Mrs. Sanchez' vehicle rammed it. The Yonan car received moderate damage, and the Sanchez car had major damage.

Falls Off Tractor

A 5-year-old boy suffered a severely cut left leg at 10:15 a.m. yesterday when he fell off a tractor while riding with his father on the Soledad Ranch. A trailer hooked on to the tractor ran over the boy's leg, the CHP reported.

Walter Bresciani took his son John to the Salinas Valley Memorial Hospital. At 6:30 p.m. Saturday on COAST WRECK—Spectators watch a crushed '60 compact car being hauled up a cliff about one mile north of Point Sur on Highway 1 yesterday. The car tumbled off the highway and came to halt in dense brush about 250 feet down. Its passengers, Robert Raymond Thornton and William Frank Costa Jr., both of San Leandro, were thrown out of the falling vehicle. They suffered only minor injuries.

Salinas Man Drowns as Boat Tips

A 54-year-old Salinas man drowned yesterday near the Moss Landing Pier after his 12-foot outboard capsized in rough seas.

The dead man is Ovilla H. Padgett of 1334 Abbott St. He was last seen in his boat, about 400 yards offshore, about 2 p.m.

The body was recovered from the surf about 3:30 p.m. by John Cachola of Castroville. Cachola reported he found the body floating face up in the breakers. A doctor was summoned and the victim was pronounced dead at 4:16 p.m.

The body was recovered about 300 yards south of the pier. Padgett's boat and fishing gear washed up on the beach and were recovered.

Coroner Christopher Hill Jr. said that Padgett was last seen alive at 2 p.m. by a couple who said he appeared all right. However, they said they were making for harbor because the seas were getting too rough. They

A skindiver told police he believed he had glimpsed Lewis's body on the ocean floor but that it was gone when he submerged in about 20 feet of water to investigate.

Crowd Gathers

An estimated 300 to 400 persons, some drawn to the beach by warm, sunny weather, others by the shriek of the firehouse siren, were attracted to the scene of the tragedy.

Funeral arrangements for Bays were incomplete today. Bays, a resident of Ossineke, Mich., is survived by his father, Alexander, and his mother, Rita Marie Bays. His body is at the Healey Mortuary in Salinas.

Lewis, a 1960 graduate of Yale University, was studying German at the Presidio school. His father, Robert E. Lewis Sr. of Darien, Conn., reportedly was en route to the Peninsula today.

The senior Lewis is president of Syvania Electric Products.

Deaths

O. Berthold

Word has been received of the death Feb. 4 in Santa Clara of Otis M. Berthold, a former prominent resident of the Peninsula. Although Mr. Berthold had been under treatment for some time for a heart condition, his death was unexpected.

A native of Illinois, he was 68.

Mr. Berthold was the owner and manager of the Ford-Mercury dealership in Monterey from 1931 to 1941 and had many friends on the Peninsula. He and his wife, Mrs. Alice M. Berthold, were both ardent collectors of antiques and their Carmel Valley home was noted for the charm of its period furnishings.

In recent years the Bertholds made their home at 1535 Shady Glen Ave. in Santa Clara, where Mr. Berthold had many business interests.

In addition to his wife, he leaves four nephews, Daniel Olivier of Rhode Island, Ferdinand Olivier of Downey, Julien Olivier of San Jose and Paul Olivier of Calvary.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the Lima-Salmon-Erickson Cathedral Chapel, 710 Willow St., San Jose.

ton Hall in order to abandon its responsibility for the maintenance of a clean beach for the use of the people?

We believe that important policy matters are involved and that they should be carefully and sensitively worked out.

Colton Hall is the second most important secular historical monument in California, the first being the Custom House at Monterey where the U.S. flag was first raised officially to claim California as United States territory. It should come under the custodianship of the state, but it is still dear to the heart of Monterey, and in yielding to the state Monterey has the imperative duty to protect its interests in a great landmark that it saved and preserved at its own cost and that for generations was the seat of municipal government here.

Monterey Fire Calls

The Monterey Fire Department received two calls for first aid over the past weekend and extinguished one structural fire.

Jorge Zahares of 266 Tyler St. suffered a fainting spell at 11:04 a.m. Saturday at Las Tiendas Market. A resuscitator squad arrived to find inhalation being given by the A-1 Ambulance crew. Zahares was then taken by ambulance to the Monterey Hospital.

Terence Lawr, 17, of 299 Park St., recuperating from an appendectomy, suffered severe abdominal pains at 1:17 p.m. Saturday. A resuscitator squad of the fire department gave inhalation and sent him by A-1 Ambulance to the Monterey Hospital for further treatment.

At 7:30 p.m. yesterday, firemen were called to 340 Ramona St., where fire, presumed to have been started in a couch by a cigarette, caused approximately $350 damage to Apt. 8, occupied by Paul D. Samarac.

Samarac had returned shortly before, to discover the couch in flames, and was attempting to extinguish them with a garden hose when firemen arrived. Structural damage to floor and wall amounted to about $100; the loss to contents, including a rug and end table, was estimated at about $250.

Presidio Sports Arena Named for Pvt. Lewis

The Sports Arena at the Army Language School was named Lewis Hall yesterday in memory of the late Pvt. Robert E. Lewis Jr., who was drowned in Carmel Bay last February in a vain attempt to rescue a swimmer in distress.

The naming of the Sports Arena for Lewis is in keeping with the Presidio of Monterey tradition honoring soldiers who have lost their lives while showing extraordinary bravery in facing dangers not connected with military duties.

Honored guest at the formal ceremony was Lewis' father, who came here from his home in Darien, Conn.

Col. James L. Collins Jr., commandant of the Army Language School, gave the dedication address and officially proclaimed that the current Sports Arena — and other buildings which may house the facility — will be formally known henceforth as Lewis Hall.

Two musical selections were sung in German by the German Department student choir: "I Once Had a Comrade" and "A Mighty Fortress is Our God." The choir was under the direction of Frank Gercke.

Chaplain Charles Trinkle gave the benediction.
