Fort Novosel weather team eyes potential above-normal 2025 Atlantic hurricane season

With the Atlantic hurricane season already underway and running through the end of November, Fort Novosel's weather team is once again keeping a sharp eye on the tropics. With the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration projecting an above average season with 13-19 named storms, 6-10 becoming hurricanes including 3-5 major hurricanes this year, the Fort Novosel team is focused on staying vigilant and communicating effectively to...

Army designates MV-75 as mission design series for Future Long Range Assault Aircraft

The U.S. Army has officially designated MV-75 as the mission design series for its Future Long Range Assault Aircraft, a key modernization effort aimed at fielding the next generation of vertical lift tactical assault and utility aircraft for the Army and U.S. Special Operations Command. The initial prototype will carry the designation YMV-75A. In line with military aircraft nomenclature, the "Y" prefix indicates a prototype, while the "A" denotes the initial model in the series. "MV" stands for multi-mission vertical...

Army accelerates fielding of advanced SUAS, enhancing combat capabilities

The Army is rapidly advancing capabilities in the Short-Range Reconnaissance, SRR, program by deploying cutting-edge small uncrewed aircraft systems, SUAS, to Transformation in Contact brigades. These modernized systems amplify combat power and lethality, improve troop survivability and give commanders real-time intelligence on the modern battlefield. Col. Danielle Medaglia, UAS Project Manager, highlighted the importance of the Army's approach.

Wrenches Down, Ranks Up: 15R Maintainer SGT Ronald Roberts Named 2024 Aviation Soldier of the Year

What began as a proud moment quickly turned into a career-defining milestone on stage for Sgt. Ronald Roberts after being named the AAAA Gary G. Wetzel Army Aviation Soldier of the Year at the 2025 Army Aviation Association of America Summit in Nashville, Tennessee. Roberts was preparing to return to his seat as followed by other recipients after delivering his acceptance speech—but instead, his wife was invited on stage. Maj Gen. Gill, Commanding General of the Aviation Center of Excellence and Fort Novosel, took to the podium and pulled out a Sergeant E-5 rank. After recalling a conversation between the two...

101st Airborne launches the next chapter in Army Aviation with MV-75 reveal

The 101st Airborne Division (Air Assault) held a ceremony which unveiled an MV-75, 1/8th scale Future Long Range Assault Aircraft, FLRAA, model, at the atrium of division headquarters, June 6, 2025, at Fort Campbell.

“The MV-75 represents a bold leap toward the future of vertical envelopment,” said Brig. Gen. Travis McIntosh, deputy commanding general for support, 101st Airborne Division (Air Assault). “For the 101st Air Assault Division — born of legacy, fueled by innovation — this aircraft is not just a machine. It’s a promise: that when America needs Screaming Eagles we will be ready to strike anywhere in...
