4. U.S. Forces personnel may hunt in Germany with a German hunting license (Jagdschein) and permission (or invitation) to hunt. Hunting without the required documents is considered poaching, and violators may be fined or barred from privileges. Hunters are responsible for being aware of the laws where they hunt.

Hunting on USAG RP Installations

a. Hunters entering the installation must declare weapons to the Gate Guards at the access control point with intentions (Storing POF, Hunting, or Sport Shooting). Gate Guards will confirm hunt authorization and German hunting license (Jagdschein) against the approved hunting roster or the Military Police desk before granting access.

b. If hunters fail to comply they will be barred from hunting on the installation. Reinstatement of these privileges are approved by the Garrison Commander or Delegated Authority.

c. All hunters will check out with the MP Desk once they have completed their hunt and leaving post to ensure the accountability of all hunters and the safety of the installation.

5. German forest authorities are authorized to access the installation at any point to conduct official duties. This access is to conduct official duties excluding any hunts not pre-identified with the MP desk and discharging of any weapons except in emergency situations.

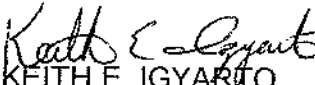

a. An emergency is defined as a compromise to life, limb, or safety of the installation or equipment. All discharging of weapons will be reported to the Military Police Desk immediately.

b. All Forrest Meisters must register with the MP Desk and provide updated contact information in the event of a needed response.

c. Forrest Meisters must notify the Military Police desk for all scheduled hunts on the installation. Forrest Meisters will provide the garrison and MP's enough time to ensure notice of the hunt as well as safeguard the community within the area of garrison operations. Minimum requirements of a scheduled hunt will provide when, where, duration, and a list of hunters.

d. Those granted authorization to hunt on the installation will require access via Installation Access Control System (IACS) for access to the installation. Those without access will comply with installation access procedures along with security requirements as needed.

6. Point of contact for this memorandum is the Director of Emergency Services LTC Steven L. Kane at DSN (314) 493-4362 or at steven.l.kane2.mil@mail.mil.
