What to expect...

1. An exceptional level of training. Your Soldier is being trained by some of the best cadre (drill sergeants and officers) in the United States Army.
2. Informational posts daily on our Facebook page to help you prepare for your life as a member of the Army Family.
3. Basic Combat Training is much like your first deployment. We know firsthand how challenging deployments can be, but you are not alone. You are part of our Family, the Army Family now.
4. Expect letters (paper mail) to be the primary means of communication with your Soldier. Consider writing often; it is a huge morale booster.
5. No news is good news. (This phrase will serve you well the entirety of your Army career.)
6. Pictures will start posting at the end of week three. Pictures are taken by volunteers and COVID has limited their availability. (So, there will likely be fewer photos than in the past.)
7. Mail (packages and letters) take an average of 14 business days to be received by Soldiers in Training.
8. Phone calls are a weekly privilege and we do not determine whom a Soldier chooses to call.

Basic Combat Training Phases Explained

- There are four phases in Basic Combat Training: Yellow, Red, White, and Blue.
- With each phase, Trainees move closer to their goal of becoming a Soldier. The process of moving from one phase to another is known as “phase change” or “phasing up”.
- Yellow Phase, is also known as Controlled Monitoring.
  - Trainees are split into smaller groups to minimize the spread of COVID.
  - They exercise (physical training), and instruction is focused on fundamentals of the Army.
  - At the end of Yellow Phase, the unit is re-structured, and Trainees may change Platoons, Companies, or even Battalions.
- Red Phase, is also known as the Hammer Phase of Training.
- White Phase, also known as the Anvil Phase of Training.
- Blue Phase, also known as the Forge Phase of Training.
- The Forge is the final training exercise and upon successful completion your Trainee will earn the title of Soldier, at the Soldier Ceremony.
- A week after The Forge, Soldiers graduate and move on to their next phase of training.
- See the training schedule, to the right, for this cycle.

Battalion Cycle Pick Up
Yellow Phase, Controlled Monitoring
Red Phase ACFT, VIC Tower, CBRN, and Obstacle Courses.
Red Phase Testing (All Companies)

White Phase Rifle Marksmanship
FTX 2 (two nights)

What Rank is my Trainee?

We frequently get asked, “what rank is my trainee?” That’s not a question we can answer but we can provide some assistance in figuring it out. Your Trainee or Trainee’s recruiter can provide this information. However, here are some general guidelines.

- If your Trainee has just graduated high school and does not have any college, they are likely a PVT (Private).
- If they have completed some college it is possible for them to be a Private First Class (PFC).
- If your Trainee has graduated from college and will be attending Officer Candidate School (OCS) after graduation from Basic Combat Training they are likely a Specialist (SPC).
- If your Trainee is prior service, they will likely enter in at their previous rank.
- Knowing your Trainee’s rank is helpful for letters and also determining pay. When looking at a military pay table the rank equivalents are as follows:
  - PVT = E-1
  - PV2 = E-2
  - PFC = E-3
  - SPC = E-4

#Insidethewire

Helping Families become Army Families.

	PRIVATE (PVT) Private is the lowest rank. Most Soldiers receive this rank during Basic Combat Training. This rank does not carry an insignia.
	PRIVATE SECOND CLASS (PV2) Enlisted Soldiers generally receive this rank after either completion of Basic Combat Training, or six months of Army service.
	PRIVATE FIRST CLASS (PFC) Soldiers are generally promoted to this level within a year by request of a supervisor. Soldiers serving at this rank make up the backbone of the Army. Their primary role is to carry out orders and complete missions.
	SPECIALIST (SPC) A specialist can manage other lower-ranked enlisted Soldiers. A Soldier can be promoted to this rank after serving a minimum of two years and attending a training class. Recruits with a four-year degree may enter Basic Combat Training as a specialist.
	CORPORAL (CPL) Corporal is the base level of the noncommissioned officer (NCO) ranks. Corporals serve as team leader of the smallest Army units. Like sergeants, they are responsible for individual training, personal appearance and cleanliness of Soldiers.
	SERGEANT (SGT) Sergeants typically command a fire team of around five Soldiers. Sergeants oversee Soldiers in their daily tasks, and are expected to set a standard for lower-ranked Soldiers to live up to.

Pro-Tip from the Army Families that have come before you. Think of Basic Combat Training like your first deployment. When on active duty there will be times when your Soldier won't be able to call for weeks, if not longer. While a challenge in our constantly connected world, it is a part of Army Life.

Phone Calls

- Periodic phone calls will be allowed during the course of the training cycle.
- We do not determine whom your Soldier chooses to call.
- Phones and phone calls are a privilege not a right.
- Some Soldiers choose not to exercise this privilege as they find it may detract from their ability to focus on the mission at hand.

Frequently Asked Questions (Yellow Phase)

Can I call my Soldier? No, you may not call your Soldier

Are Soldiers allowed visitors? No. Soldiers are not allowed any visitors.

When will my Soldier get paid? Soldiers are paid on the first of the month and on the 15th if they elected the mid-month pay option. Upon their arrival here at Fort Leonard Wood, the Soldiers receive an advance of $350 on a debit card so they can purchase personal hygiene items, pay for hair cuts, etc. That advance will be taken out of their first full month's paycheck. Soldiers are paid only for the days that they are actually in the Army. For example, if a Soldier arrives for Basic Combat Training on the 20th of June, the Soldier will receive pay only for 20-30 June, not the entire month. Pay may take up to 60 days (they will receive back pay).

When my Soldier called, they sounded upset, depressed, saying this is not for them, and wishing they could come home. What should I do? Many Soldiers feel that way when they first arrive. After the first week or so of training (when they settle into a routine, begin to make new friends, and get some training accomplished) they grow enthusiastic and look forward to the upcoming training events. Support from loved ones is the key to your Soldier's success (start sending encouraging and uplifting letters now as they will take some time to reach your Soldier).

Mail Expectations

- Fort Leonard Wood receives well over 10,000 pieces of mail daily for Soldiers.
- Once the mail arrives at the Fort Leonard Wood Post Office, it goes through additional steps before it reaches your Soldier.
  - Each of those steps are hand sorted.
  - Our BN receives over 1,000 pieces of mail a day that has to be HAND SORTED.
  - This process from the Fort Leonard Wood Post Office to your Soldier's hands can add 3-5 days.
  - Mail may take 10 business day to reach your Soldier (Pre-COVID).
  - COVID precautions have increased the time it takes for mail to reach your Soldier.
- Your strongest source of communication with your Soldier will be through mail, so please write.
- Your Soldier is very busy and may not be able to write back as often as they would like. Mail is a huge morale booster; so, keep sending letters.
- Mail is NEVER withheld as punishment.
- IT IS A FEDERAL CRIME TO WITHHOLD MAIL.
- Drill Sergeants DO NOT go through the mail prior to your Soldier receiving it. However, Soldiers are required to open packages and large envelopes in front of Drill Sergeants to ensure no contraband items are inside.
- Please remember, you will most likely receive mail from your Soldier before they receive mail from you.

Mail Concerns

- My Soldier has moved to a different battalion/company/platoon. Will my Soldier still receive the mail I sent?
- I didn't address mail as suggested; will my Soldier still receive it?
- The answer to both questions is the same. Yes! It may take some time to catch up to your Soldier, but they will receive their mail.
- My Soldier is moving to a new battalion/company/platoon. Should I stop writing until I get the address or continue writing? That is a personal decision. However, know all mail sent will eventually reach your Soldier.
- Please remember all mail is hand sorted before it reaches your Soldier, and we receive thousands of letters every day. So, we really appreciate your patience and your continued support of your Soldier.

Photos during Yellow Phase

If you've looked at our page in the past you may have noticed photos being posted earlier in the training cycle. COVID has changed the ability to take photos early in the cycle. So, please be patient and know we'll post them as soon as we can, usually around the third week.

Some other key points about pictures:

- Photos are taken by volunteers.
- We cannot take pictures of specific Soldiers.
- You can access photos from a third party at <https://www.basictrainingphotos.com>. We are not affiliated with this organization. We do not profit off these photos. We cannot answer questions about this website. If you have questions you can locate their phone number listed on the website.
- If photos are posted please feel free to download, save or share photos to your personal page. Our photos are NOT to be shared in other group pages. No negative or derogatory comments will be tolerated on our page. (You will be banned from commenting on our page without warning if we see derogatory comments appearing on our page.)

Operations Security (OPSEC)

OPSEC cannot be easily summed up in a set of rules for every situation. So, here are some key considerations:

1. Do not post an exact date and location. (ex: My Soldier is arriving at 5pm on Tuesday.)
2. Do not discuss routes and modes of travel taken. (ex: My Soldier is flying from _____ airport.)
3. Do not discuss events and locations where large numbers are present. (ex. My Soldier and her 15 platoon mates are attending _____ event.)
4. Avoid the use of count down tickers (ex: My Soldier comes home in 5 days.)
5. Do not “Tag” your Soldier. With today's technology, facial recognition may seem fun and easy, but these same programs could be harmful to those in the military, along with their Family.
6. Do not pass on rumors (ex. I heard they're graduating early.)
7. Internet Safety. This CANNOT be stressed enough. If you do not know them, do not friend them!

These OPSEC considerations aren't meant to limit your free speech or restrict your liberties. They are designed to help ensure the safety and security of your Soldier. We all have a part in the security of our loved ones.

Understanding Military Pay

- Soldiers can usually expect a paycheck within 4 weeks of arriving at Fort Leonard Wood but pay can take up to TWO months to begin (your Soldier will receive back pay).
- If your Soldier has any questions, he/she needs to go through the Drill Sergeants to make an appointment with the Finance Office. The Soldier is the only one that Finance will speak to regarding pay issues.
- An LES (Leave and Earning Statement) is the equivalent to a civilian pay stub. The LES is the monthly report of earnings, deductions and leave balance. The LES includes: monthly base pay, additional entitlements such as special pay or allowances, deductions, allotments, tax withholdings, thrift savings plan contributions, insurance deductions, and available leave (vacation) days.

Defense Enrollment Eligibility Reporting System (DEERS)

- Your Soldier was automatically enrolled in DEERS.
- Spouse and/or children of your Soldier are eligible for DEERS enrollment.
- The service member is referred to as “the sponsor”. Spouses and children are referred to as “dependents”.
- If eligible for DEERS enrollment, you should receive a Form DD172 within 2-4 weeks, from your Soldier.
- Take the DD172 and the required documentation (see table to the right) to an ID card office. (It does not need to be an Army office).
- You can find an make an appointment here.

Trainee Recycle: What is it?

- For training units, such as ours, every class/cohort of training is referred to as a cycle. (For reference, we are currently in cycle 2X-XX). The term “recycle” is used to describe a Trainee who has changed from one cycle to another.
- Trainees are traditionally recycled for one of two reasons (although there can be other reasons):
  1. A Soldier has a medical condition that requires recovery outside of what their current unit can provide, or
  2. A Soldier requires additional training outside of what their current unit can provide.
- In either case, they are moved from their current unit to a unit dedicated to the task.
  - The Fitness Training Company is an example. They have a dedicated mission of helping Soldiers meet the physical demands of Army life.
- When a Soldier is recycled, they change units. This means they physically relocate on Fort Leonard Wood to a different building and will have a different address for mail.
- When Trainees are done recovering from their medical conditions/have received the additional instruction, they are transferred back into a Basic Training Battalion. This requires another physical relocation on Fort Leonard Wood and another change in mailing address.
- Trainees are re-integrated back into training at a point that most closely matches when they left training.
- Once cleared to resume training, Trainees may be ready to move back into a Basic Training Battalion before a slot is available. (Bed space, instructors, weapons, etc.). Based on availability, Trainees may be able to resume training immediately or could wait some time.

Army Rank Structure: An Overview

The ranks below are described from lowest (Private) to highest (General).

Enlisted: Enlisted Soldiers are the most important part of the Army structure. They carry out orders and complete missions. Enlisted Soldiers perform specific job functions and have the knowledge that ensures the success of their unit's current mission within the Army.

- Junior Enlisted Ranks: Private (PVT), Private Second Class (PV2), Private First Class (PFC), Specialist (SPC)

Non-Commissioned Officers (NCO): Are enlisted Soldiers and known as “The Backbone of the Army”. Competence is their watchword; they are technically and tactically proficient. NCO’s two most basic responsibilities are accomplishment of the mission and the welfare of Soldiers.

- Junior Non-Commissioned Officer Ranks: Corporal (CPL), Sergeant (SGT), Staff Sergeant (SSG),
- Senior Non-Commissioned Officer Ranks: Sergeant First Class (SFC), Master Sergeant (MSG), First Sergeant (1SG), Sergeant Major (SGM), Command Sergeant Major (CSM)

Officers (Warrant): A Warrant Officer is a highly specialized expert and trainer in his or her career field. Warrant Officers make up the technical foundation of the U.S. Army. - Warrant Officer Ranks: Warrant Officer (WO1), Chief Warrant Officer 2 (CW2), Chief Warrant Officer 3 (CW3), Chief Warrant Officer 4 (CW4), Chief Warrant Officer 5 (CW5)

Officers (Commissioned): Commissioned Officers are responsible for leading and training enlisted Soldiers, planning missions, and organizing the internal and external affairs of the Army. Appointments for commissioned officers are made by the President. For field grade officers and above with the advice and consent of the Senate.

- Company Grade Officer Ranks: Second Lieutenant (2LT), First Lieutenant (1LT), Captain (CPT)
- Field Grade Officer Ranks: Major (MAJ), Lieutenant Colonel (LTC), Colonel (COL)
- General Officers: Brigadier General (BG), Major General (MG), Lieutenant General (LTG), General (GEN)

Cadre? Staff? Enlisted? Officer?

Some of the terms we are most frequently asked about are below:

- Cadre: The group of enlisted personnel and officers responsible for training the unit.
- Staff: The group of enlisted personnel, officers, and civilians that are responsible for the operational, logistical, and administrative needs of the unit.
- Permanent Party: The individuals assigned to a unit that do not rotate upon completion of a cycle. For our unit, the Permanent Party is the cadre. These individuals are assigned to the unit for an average of two years.
- The Army has many ranks ranging from Private to General. However, all Army ranks fit into one of three “categories”:
  - Enlisted: Enlisted Soldiers are the most important part of the Army structure. They carry out orders and complete missions. Enlisted Soldiers perform specific job functions and have the knowledge that ensures the success of their unit's current mission within the Army.
  - Officers (Warrant): A Warrant Officer is a highly specialized expert and trainer in his or her career field. Warrant Officers make up the technical foundation of the U.S. Army. Throughout their careers, they specialize in a technical area like intelligence, aviation, or military police. Warrant officers are appointed by the Secretary of the Army.
  - Officers (Commissioned): Commissioned Officers are responsible for leading and training enlisted Soldiers, planning missions, and organizing the internal and external affairs of the Army. Commissioned Officers are appointed by the President of the United States.

Military Time

Military Time is based on a 24 hours clock rather than a 12-hour clock:

- The table provides a reference for “military” vs. “civilian” time.
- Any time that begins with a zero may be referred to as either “zero” or “o”. For example, 6am could be said as “zero six” or “o six hundred”.
- Beginning with 10am, time is referred to as “ten hundred” or 1pm as “thirteen hundred”.
- O’dark thirty or “zero dark thirty” is a time you will often hear. It does not necessarily have a specific hour of the morning but refers to a time after midnight and before 5am.

12-hour clock	24-hour clock	Comments	12-hour clock	24-hour clock	Comments
12:00am	0000	Midnight	12:00pm	1200	Noon

Frequently Asked Questions (Red Phase)

Will my Soldier be able to take leave either during or right after Basic Training?
Except for emergency situations, Soldiers are not authorized leave until after they complete both Basic and Advanced Individual Training. The exception to this is Holiday Block Leave.

I haven't received any mail from my Soldier; when will my Soldier be able to write? Soldiers have personal time in the evening for correspondence. We do not determine whom they write to; nor do we determine whom they call when they are allowed a phone call. Remember, it can take a few weeks for mail to be received.

When will we receive updates about our Soldiers and their medical conditions?
We cannot and do not comment on the medical status or condition of any Soldier or groups of Soldiers, at any time. Soldiers are given an opportunity to call their next of kin should a significant medical event occur. Should a Soldier change units because of a medical condition they are allowed to call their next of kin to inform them of the change. They will continue to receive mail at their new unit.

Army Emergency Relief

Army Emergency Relief better known as AER is the Army's own emergency financial assistance organization and is dedicated to "Helping the Army Take Care of its Own." AER has been helping Soldiers since 1942 and is the U.S. Army's Nonprofit Organization.

- AER financial assistance is conducted within the Army structure by mission commanders and garrison commanders through AER Sections located at U.S. Army installations worldwide.
- AER provides zero-interest loans, grants, and educational scholarships, helping ensure no Soldier faces financial hardship on their own.
- There are three ways to apply for assistance through AER: the Soldier's Chain of Command, an AER Office, or the American Red Cross (1-877-272-7337 then select the option for financial assistance.)
- The following individuals are eligible for AER assistance in accordance with Army Regulation 930-4: Soldiers on active duty and their eligible dependents; Army Reserve and National Guard Soldiers activated on Title 10 orders for more than 30 days and their eligible dependents; Soldiers retired for longevity, medical, or upon reaching age 60 (reserve component) and their eligible dependents; Surviving spouses who have not remarried and children of Soldiers who died on active duty or died after reaching retirement eligibility.

Better Opportunities for Single Soldiers (BOSS)

- BOSS is the collective voice of single Soldiers through the chain of command, which serves as a tool for commanders to gauge the morale of single Soldiers regarding quality-of-life issues.
- BOSS also sponsors a variety of activities before, during and after deployment to maintain the morale of single Soldiers affected by increased operational tempo and deployment stress.
- The BOSS program is facilitated through its three core components aimed at maintaining a balanced life: leisure and recreation, community service and quality of life.
  - Quality of Life: Quality of Life includes those issues that Soldiers can directly or indirectly influence to enhance their morale, living environment, or personal growth and development. Issues raised during BOSS meetings will be directed to the appropriate command or staff agency for resolution on the installation. Army-wide issues are forwarded to the Army Family Action Plan Conference for possible DA resolution.
  - Recreation and Leisure: Fun activities are planned by the BOSS council working in conjunction with the MWR Advisor and CSM. These events are geared towards the desires of the Single Soldiers on that installation.
  - Community Service: BOSS makes a difference by volunteering in community projects and events. This is always voluntary in nature, and Soldiers find this to be personally rewarding.
- BOSS serves the Single Soldier Community - active, guard and reserve - and single parents, geographical bachelors, and other branches of service and Foreign Service Members.

Soldier Family Readiness Groups (SFRG)

- A Soldier/Family Readiness Group (SFRG) is a command sponsored organization of Family members, volunteers, Soldiers, and civilian employees belonging to a unit, that together provide an avenue of mutual support and assistance and a network of communications among the Family members, the chain of command, chain of concern, and community resources.
- SFRGs foster a sense of belonging to the unit and provide a vehicle for Families to develop friendships while they gain information about the unit and community. In addition, they provide information and referrals as well as support during deployments.
- SFRGs provide support which enables Soldiers to concentrate on the mission at hand. SFRGs help develop a confidence in Soldiers that Family members will receive reliable and friendly support when the Soldier is away. This can be a meaningful stabilizer for Soldier performance in the unit, and an enhancer of training and psychological readiness to fight.

CARE Teams

- CARE originally stood for Casualty Response. These teams of volunteers provide immediate short-term (24 – 96 hours) support in the event of a death or significant injury to the surviving local Family members.
- CARE Teams are a Commander's program. (So, the BN Commander has to activate the CARE Team).
- These teams can be activated due to the death/injury of a service member, spouse, or child.
- There are a variety of ways to help with a CARE Team from contributing a meal (most common) to sitting with the Family.
- There is mandatory training from ACS (Army Community Services).
- Serving on a CARE is one of the most rewarding and challenging volunteer positions in the Army.

Casualty Notification Process

Casualty Notification: Whenever a Soldier signs into a new unit the Soldier provides emergency contact(s) information in a signed document (known as a DD93), designating whom they wanted contacted in the event of the Soldier dying or being seriously injured. (This is usually Family members and referred to as the “Next of Kin”).

In the event of death or serious injury the individuals listed on the DD93 will be notified in person, during the hours of 6am – 10pm. The notification team always has two people, the Casualty Notification Officer (CNO) and a Chaplain. The CNO and Chaplain will be in dress uniforms (not the camouflage ones, but the ones that look more like a business suit). It is only after the casualty notification process is completed (and all individuals listed on the DD93 have been contacted) that the name of the injured or deceased individual is released to the public. If the Army is delayed in finding the next of kin (NOK), perhaps because the NOK have moved and the Soldier did not update the paperwork, release of the deceased/injured Soldier’s name will also be delayed.

Safety Stand Down: This is a pause in training/operations to allow everyone to refocus on safety. The unit takes this time to re-analyze the circumstances that led to the stand down and reviews training plans to ensure all safety measures are being taken.

Communication Lockouts: Communication lockout/blackout is when no communication is allowed between a Soldier and anyone outside the unit, including their Family members, by email/text/phone/social media. This is done to allow the Casualty Notification process to play out. Next of kin Family members deserve the right to be informed of the injury or death of their Soldier in a dignified and supportive manner. They should not learn of the injury/death from the news, text message, or social media post. The communication lockouts are done to protect these Family members.

SHARP

Sexual Harassment/Assault Response & Prevention

Intervene

When I recognize a threat to my fellow Soldiers, I will have the personal courage to INTERVENE and prevent sexual assault. I will condemn acts of sexual harassment. I will not abide obscene gestures, language, or behavior. I am a Warrior and a member of a team. I will INTERVENE.

Act

You are my brother, my sister, my fellow Soldier. It is my duty to stand up for you, no matter the time or place. I will take ACTION. I will do what's right. I will prevent sexual harassment and sexual assault. I will not tolerate sexually offensive behavior. I will ACT.

Motivate

We are American Soldiers, MOTIVATED to keep our fellow Soldiers safe. It is our mission to prevent sexual harassment and sexual assault. We will denounce sexual misconduct. As Soldiers, we are all MOTIVATED to take action. We are strongest...together.

Suicide Awareness

- Soldiers volunteer to put their lives on the line to protect our country. However, risks may lurk in dealing everyday life. Significant life changes, stress and unique challenges of Army life can make Soldiers feel isolated. These stresses can be even harder and more confusing for loved ones to deal with.
- Mental health issues can happen to anyone, at any time. Here are some points in a Soldier's life when they can feel especially alone, agitated or anxious: Around times of deployment or difficulty readjusting following deployment; Loss of a family member, friend or fellow service member; Career setbacks or disciplinary actions; Difficulty in a marriage or family life; Transitioning from military to civilian life; Financial difficulty; Major life changes.
- As a loved one, you know your Soldier best. Trust your instincts and talk to them if you think they may be having suicidal thoughts.
  - Do not counsel them yourself. Ask questions and listen – but encourage them to get professional help if there is a threat.
  - Communication needs to be mostly listening
- Knowing the risk factors, warning signs and where to turn is the best thing you can do for your Soldier. Support is available 24/7 (1-800-273-8255 and Press 1) both for your loved one in distress and yourself.
- You can make a difference by understanding when a Soldier is most at risk and knowing where to turn for help.

- Eligibility: As long as you or your spouse are an active-duty, National Guard or reserve service member or a designated Department of Defense civilian, the spouse, Soldier, and child(ren) are eligible. Surviving children are also eligible. If a child is 18 years old or younger, parent/guardian must give consent for counseling sessions.
- MFLCs are trained to work with the military community; you can reach a counselor by calling 800-342-9647.

P3 and Army Wellness Centers

- The Performance Triad (P3) supports and enables the responsibility of command teams to develop Soldiers with healthy minds and bodies which are essential to individual and unit readiness. To maximize or enhance the resilience of our Soldiers requires a combination of mental, emotional, and physical skills to generate optimal performance (i.e., readiness) not only during combat, but also during healing after an injury, preventing injuries and in managing work and home life. The tenets of the P3 build resilience in all the ways one can be resilient by leveraging cognitive, emotional, and behavioral skills.
- Part of the P3 are Army Wellness Centers (AWCs). They provide standardized primary prevention programs designed to promote and sustain healthy lifestyles and improve the overall wellbeing of Active Duty Service Members, adult Family Members, Retirees, and Department of the Army (DA) Civilians by leveraging state-of-the-art techniques and equipment.

Exceptional Family Member Program

- The Army designed the EFMP to be a comprehensive, coordinated, multi-agency program that provides community support, housing, medical, educational, and personnel services to military Families with an EFM.
- In the Army, there are two sides to the EFMP house: Medical and ACS.
  - The Medical side is the core of the program. They not only ensure medical needs are met but also ensure that Soldier's PCS (permanent change of station...moving from one duty station to another) is to an installation that can support their EFM. "Are the necessary medical resources available at the new installation?"
  - The ACS side of the house is geared toward support groups or referrals to outside organizations that can provide assistance.
- For more information on Army EFMP visit: https://myarmybenefits.us.army.mil/Benefit-Library/Federal-Benefits/Exceptional-Family-Member-Program-\(EFMP\)-?serv=122-?serv=122)
- Information on Exceptional Family Member Family Support can also be found on Military One Source. They can help service members and their families identify and access programs and services including, but not limited to: Information and referrals for military and community services, Education and outreach, Information about available local school and early intervention services, Warm handoffs to the Exceptional Family Member Program at new locations, and Non-clinical case management, including individualized services plans.

CYS (Child and Youth Services)

- CYS provides quality child development options and youth programs. Programs and services are available at most installations for children up to age 12 and at Youth Centers, when available, up to age 18. Care is provided in different settings based on age/requirements.
- Child Development Centers (CDC) offer care for children ages 6 weeks to 5 years old.
- School Age Care (SAC) Programs bridge the gap between Child Development Services and Youth Services and provide programs for youth in Grades K - 5.
- Family Child Care (FCC) Program is a system of home-based childcare. Family members living in government housing who provide childcare for more than 10 hours per week on a regular basis are required to be certified through this program. FCC applicants go through an extensive certification process before being allowed to care for children in their government quarters.
- The Youth Program (Youth Center or YC) offers age-appropriate activities for youth in 6th through 12th grades including homework assistance, transportation, and snacks.
- MilitaryChildCare.com allows Soldiers and Families to search for child and youth care options through a single website. The site provides comprehensive information on childcare programs worldwide, conduct a customized search for the care, and submit a request for care at any time and from any location.

CYS Additional Resources (SKIES and SLO)

- Parent Central Services: Offers registration, enrollment, records transfer, parent education classes, and babysitter referral services for Families. This is your first stop, when enrolling your child(ren) in CYS programs.
- SKIES Unlimited (School of Knowledge, Inspiration, Exploration and Skills) offers instructional programs for children and youth designed to expand their knowledge, help them acquire new skills, give them inspiration, and allow them to explore new disciplines. The SKIES Unlimited program fosters the development of critical life skills, leadership development, and social skills. SKIES offerings vary by installation but can include: swimming, golf, tennis, martial arts, piano lessons, foreign languages, and more.
- Tutoring: Army Families have access to free, unlimited online tutoring and academic and career resources 24/7 from www.tutor.com/army.
- The School Liaison Services, provided by the School Liaison Officer (SLO), are available to all military parents of school-aged children regardless of the school attended. School Liaison Services provides assistance with:
  - Issues with school registration and academic credits.
  - Coordination of transition services.
  - Information on local school systems, curriculum, and school opportunities.
  - Liaison with command on educational issues affecting military children.

White Phase FAQ's

My Soldier seems to be doing very well in training. When will we know for sure if my Soldier is going to graduate?

It is necessary that your Soldier complete all weeks of training satisfactorily. Soldiers are responsible for keeping their Families informed as to their progress.

My Soldier is very worried about being able to qualify with the rifle. Will Soldiers be given additional help or chances to qualify if they need it? As training progresses, the Drill Sergeants actively identify those who are struggling with the fundamentals of marksmanship and give them additional training as needed. Very few Soldiers actually fail to qualify after all the training they receive.

My Soldier is worried about passing the physical fitness test. Will my Soldier be given additional opportunities to pass the test? The companies will give the first-time ACFT (Army Combat Fitness Test) failures at least 2-3 additional retests before the end of the cycle, as well as additional physical training to address their deficiencies. If by the end of the cycle the Soldier still has not met the minimum requirements for passing their ACFT test, there is the possibility of a special ACFT program for up to 4 weeks that the Soldier might be eligible to attend as well.

Regarding Pay

- It can take up to 8 weeks for military pay to start.
- Soldiers are advanced $350 on an Eagle Cash Card (debit card) that they can use on Post to purchase items they may need.
- If Soldiers have not received pay yet and are in need, they can request an AER loan. AER loan requests go through a Soldier's Chain of Command. If you would like more information about AER visit <https://www.armyemergencyrelief.org/>.
- Whenever there is an issue with pay (either now or in the future) Soldiers can initiate a "pay inquiry".
- Family members (parents or spouse) cannot interact with Finance without a power of attorney clearly defining the ability of the parent or spouse to handle financial matters on behalf of the Soldier.
- If a "pay inquiry" needs to be initiated the Soldier needs to speak with their Drill Sergeant(s) who will ensure the Soldier is able to communicate with Finance.
- If your Soldier is due back pay (i.e. they haven't received their first paycheck yet). The Soldier will receive all pay due; usually in a lump sum on the 1st or 15th of month. However, this depends both on processing dates and the nature of back pay due.
- The number of available leave (vacation) days is printed on a Soldier's LES (Leave and Earning Statement...pay stub). Soldiers accrue leave at a rate of 2.5 days per calendar month.

Defense Commissary Agency

- Defense commissaries (grocery stores) have a long history going back to 1825.
- They provide a military benefit of discounted groceries and household goods to active-duty, Reserve and Guard members of the uniformed services, retirees of these services, authorized Family members, DOD civilian employees overseas and other designated categories.
- The discounted prices include a 5-percent surcharge, mandated by Congress, which covers the costs of building new commissaries and modernizing existing ones.
- Commissaries provide a wide variety of ethnic foods not easily found at traditional grocery stores; they also provide a, “taste of home” when stationed overseas.
- Commissaries are not always open seven days a week; so, check online for store hours and sales (for your location).
- Commissaries have “baggers”. These individuals bag your groceries and will take them out to your car with you. These individuals work for tips only.
- Learn more about this military benefit at: <https://commissaries.com/>

AAFES (Army & Air Force Exchange Service)

- Since 1895, the Army & Air Force Exchange Service has provided Warfighters and their Families tax-free shopping and military-exclusive pricing at installations worldwide and at ShopMyExchange.com.
- 100% of Exchange earnings support the military community. Exchange earnings support critical military Quality-of-Life programs that promote military readiness and resiliency including Child, Youth and School Services, Armed Forces Recreation Centers and more.
- The Exchange operates more than 4,000 facilities in 34 countries, 50 states, 4 U.S. territories (Guam, Puerto Rico, Northern Mariana Islands and American Samoa) and the District of Columbia. No matter where troops go, the Exchange goes with them.
- The Exchange funds 97% of its operating budget from the sale of goods and services. The remaining 3% of funding comes from appropriated funds; the vast majority of this support is devoted to transporting goods overseas to make American goods available to those serving abroad.
- The Exchange and the Commissary are two different organizations with the similar goal of supporting Soldiers and their Families.

MWR

Morale, Welfare, and Recreation

- Army MWR exists because the U.S. Army “...is committed to the well-being of the community of people who serve and stand ready to defend the nation, to enhance the lives of Soldiers, their Families, civilian employees, and military retirees.”
- MWR seeks to bridge the gap between the garrison and the local community and contribute to the Army’s strength and readiness by offering services that reduce stress and build skills and self confidence for Soldiers and their Families.
- MWR support programs, include child-care, youth programs, schools, libraries, sports and athletics, financial counseling, spouse employment programs, in-theater support to deployed Soldiers, Soldier Family Readiness Groups, lodging, and fitness centers.

What if I can't make it to graduation?

- You can celebrate virtually!
- Soldiers will have access to their phones the afternoon of Family Day (there's training in the beginning of the day).
- Some families will invite other Soldiers to join them for the day if they do not have family present. Remember, we are all family now!
- Graduation will be live-streamed on this page.
  - Remember do not click on any links in the comments of any of the Facebook live stream posts. You will not need to go to a different site to view the graduation. The Army will not ask you to pay to watch a BCT graduation ceremony!

Blue Phase

Frequently Answered Questions

When will my Soldier ship to AIT? Will my Soldier be able to take some leave before AIT? All Soldiers will ship to their AIT on the Friday after graduation. Except for emergency situations, Soldiers are not authorized leave until they complete their AIT. If Soldiers are at AIT over the winter holidays, they may be eligible to take Block Leave. However, this will be determined by their new (AIT) unit.

Can I drive my Soldier to AIT? No, all Soldiers will travel to AIT on government-chartered equipment (buses/planes).

Is there any type of award or recognition the Soldiers can receive for their performance during Basic Training? Yes, every cycle, with input from the Drill Sergeants, the Commander selects one Soldier to receive the Commanding General's Award for Excellence. The next best Soldier, based on performance, is designated as the recipient of the Association of the U.S. Army award. Those who score expert on the rifle qualification and the high scorers on the PT test receive recognition. So, there are quite a few opportunities that your Soldier can strive to achieve.

Relocation Readiness Services Provided

- Pre-Arrival information: Installations and surrounding areas provide information through Military OneSource, which also provides links to military installations.
- Plan My Move: The Plan My Move pages on Military OneSource simplify the moving process. You can create a customized calendar based on your needs and schedule and find driving directions and information about entitlements and out-of-pocket costs, schools and other local community resources.
- Household Goods Lending Closet: Installations keep basic household items for you to borrow for up to 30 days to help you get settled. At a minimum, you'll find things like basic kitchenware, highchairs, irons, ironing boards, play pens and transformers (for overseas locations with different voltage).
- Post-Move Newcomer Orientation: Provides information about your new installation, including housing, education, healthcare, and more.
- Welcome Packet: Most installations provide a welcome packet that has maps (both on- and off-post) and important local contact information.

Steps for a Smooth Move

- Visit Relocation Readiness at your local Army Community Services.
- Make an appointment at your local transportation office.
- If you plan to have another person assist you with the move and they require a power of attorney, make an appointment at legal.
- Go to www.move.mil and set up your Defense Property System (DPS) account.
- Schedule your move in DPS. (You might need to move one day before or after the date you select. Schedule your personal travel at least two days after your selected moving date to avoid issues.)
- After selecting dates in DPS follow-up with your local transportation office.
- Inventory and take pictures of high-value items before you move.
- Some things should be hand-carried to your new location; keep items that won't be packed in a locked room or inside your car.
  - Important paperwork like medical records, car titles and insurance documents,
  - Items you'll need in the first week like clothing, medicines, laptops and your kids' favorite toys,
  - Treasured items like Family heirlooms, jewelry or signed sports memorabilia,
- Check for damaged or missing items upon delivery. You have 75 days to file your claim for lost or damaged items. Contact your local transportation office for help filing a claim with your mover.
- Remember packers and movers are responsible for packing and moving. They are not responsible for cleaning items. (Ensure that trash cans are emptied, and items are cleaned prior to moving).
- Organize items ahead of the move (when unpacking movers are responsible for taking items out of the box but not organizing them).

Housing Services Office (HSO)

The Housing Services Office (HSO) is your first stop whether living on or off the installation. (Many military installations offer housing on the installation, known as “on-post housing”). Some installations require Soldiers (and their Families) to live “on-post.” So, always check with HSO before entering into a lease.

The HSO provides assistance in finding suitable and affordable housing in the local community, provides the list of Off-Limits Establishments, school and community info, deposit waivers, etc.

The HSO provides the most up-to-date information available on renting or purchasing a home in the surrounding area. They can also assist with landlord tenant disputes, lease reviews, and check-in/out inspections. You can find more information about your new installation’s housing office at:

<https://installations.militaryonesource.mil/>

Forgot to send mail in time?

One of two things will happen.

- (1) If your Soldier filled out a change of address form with the Post Office, their mail will be forwarded to the new address.
- (2) If your Soldier did not complete this form, then the mail will be returned to the sender.

It can take several weeks for this process to play out. So, please be patient.

The Forge

The Forge is the culminating field training exercise (FTX) that every Trainee must complete to become a Soldier. It tests every Soldier physically, mentally, morally, and is the defining experience of Basic Combat Training (BCT). During The Forge Soldiers will:

- Demonstrate their knowledge in first aid.
- Negotiate an assault course using tactics and teamwork to overcome obstacles.
- Participate in the Night Infiltration Course (NIC) where their mission is to occupy the trench, and on command, using high-crawl and low-crawl techniques, negotiate the barbed wire obstacles and machine gun fire in order to close with and destroy the enemy.
- Execute the Battle March and Shoot, engaging targets with accuracy while fatigued from intense physical activity.
- Learn about the Soldiers who came before them such as PFC Desmond Doss an Army medic. In May of 1945, PFC Doss repeatedly risked his life to save fallen comrades, and though he was wounded four times, he continued to treat and move wounded Soldiers away from the Battlefield saving the lives of at least 75 American Soldiers. For his actions, he received the Congressional Medal of Honor. The key message to Soldiers is, "Soldiers never leave a fallen comrade, Soldiers Never Quit."

The Forge takes place during hours of limited visibility requiring Trainees to walk 45 miles and to work together to solve problems. Upon completion, Soldiers have proved that they are capable of joining the ranks as new members of our Army team, capable of fighting and winning in a complex world, earning the title of Soldier.

The Soldier Ceremony

The ceremony is a tradition for Basic Combat Training Soldiers Army-wide. The Soldier Ceremony instills a sense of history in new Soldiers and acknowledges that they have passed a significant milestone. The Soldier Ceremony is a way to mark the day when Soldiers earn the right to call themselves Soldiers and are welcomed into a lifelong Family.

This is the patch our new Soldiers will wear on their left shoulder.

- Key Symbols to notice:
  - Change in headgear (hats): Soldiers will take off their patrol caps and for the first time they will don berets.
  - Change in Phase Banner (the small flag in front of each platoon): The phase banner indicates which phase of training a platoon is in. The platoons will have red-white-blue phase banners to indicate that they have completed all phases of training.
  - Change in Shoulder Patch: Soldiers will wear unit patches for the first time; signifying that they have become Soldiers.
- Sequence of Events:
  - Reveille
  - National Colors Streamer Presentation (which tells the story of our Army, and all those who came before us in service to our nation.)
  - Army Patch and Berets
  - Battalion Commander's Remarks
  - Oath of Enlistment
  - The Soldier's Creed

Military Etiquette: A Brief Overview

- Dress for the event; different attire is appropriate for different events. (Super short shirts/skirts/dress; low cut tops; or a bare midriff are not appropriate for any military events).
- When you hear the phrase, “Attention to Orders” stand-up.
- No public displays of affection. (A hug is appropriate; hand-holding/kissing etc. is not in public).
- Walk on the left side of your Soldier. (It makes it easier if they need to salute).
- RSVP to invitations (ideally within 48 hours of receiving them).
- The term “Family event” indicates children of all ages are welcome. If it’s not stated and you are unsure ask the host.
- If you are outside when “Retreat/To The Color” plays (usually at 5pm daily); stop what you are doing and face the flagpole.
- When the “National Anthem” is playing place your hand over your heart. (Also avoid chewing, talking, texting, etc. during the National Anthem/Retreat/To the Color).
- No need to use sir or ma’am when addressing officers or non-commissioned officers (you are not in the military). If you would like to show respect it is appropriate to use the individual’s rank and last name (conveniently written on their uniform), “Good morning, Major Howell”/”Good afternoon Drill Segreant Spurr.”
- There is no rank among spouses!

Get Involved!

- On the unit level, SFRGs and CARE Teams are always looking for volunteers and while some of those jobs need to be done in person (this may be best suited for Family members who live in the immediate area of the installation) others can be done remotely. So, if you want to be involved consider seeing what jobs are available.
  - In SFRGs volunteer roles could include key caller, newsletter editor, social media manager, or maintaining accurate contact rosters.
  - For CARE Teams, you could help with preparations of recipe books or checklists.
  - Most units will also welcome donations, either monetary or of goods.
  - However, it is important to know that SFRGs are registered not-for-profit organizations and there are rules both from the Army and the IRS governing the donations that these groups can accept. Notably, these groups can't solicit donations, fundraise outside of a small area, or accept large monetary donations. If you want to make a donation, check with the command first as they may need to check with their legal rep/ethics counselor prior to accepting any donations.
- In addition to the unit level volunteer opportunities (SFRG and CARE Teams). There are also many opportunities on the installation to volunteer...from the thrift shop to the hospital. Contact Army Community Services at your Soldier's duty station for all of the ways you can get involved. You are now a part of the Army Family and we truly hope you will get involved!
