FLASH MPA membership totaled 2,917 on 18 Dec. This compares with 1,666 on 28 Nov. and 5,400 for British Royal MP Association.

SECOND ARMY LEADS: On 4 Dec Second Army, with a big push by LtC Boas at Aberdeen, and in Kentucky by Col Reese, Maj Bulchie and Capt Brickman, took the lead from First Army. They were almost immediately ousted from first place by Sixth Army with LtC Slob putting in the big push. In spite of the 701st holding first place, Second Army forged ahead again within 8-days. A letter of commendation was forwarded. See the standing below. Who will lead next month?

701st Leads in World-Wide Race

701ST MP BN LEADS in world-wide membership campaign. LtC E. L. Slob, CO (OA4), turned in 198 members on 7 Dec to bring the Bn total to 231. Later he came through again to bring the total to 298. With this number the 701st took the No. 1 spot in the torrid race for first place. This fine showing by the officers and men of the 701st not only warranted a letter by Col. Howard, president, but also one for Col. Driskell, then PM of top Army (See above). Evidently the "long, rusty needle" (the words of Col. Slob) had its effect. Certainly Colonels Slob, Noland, and Russell did take note of the achievement of the 504th. Who will be on top for January? See below for additional statistics.

542d MP CO LEADS COMPANIES: While the larger units were battling for first place in the heavyweight division, and memberships were coming in fast, activity in the MP Co race was equally hectic. The 523d, commanded by LtC Boas (OA4) took the lead from the 2308-4, (CO Capt. Brickman, Ky) on 4 Dec with 71 and put Second Army ahead of of First Army 317 to 261. The 523d lost top biling within 24-hours to the 542d of Puerto Rico, commanded by Capt. Samuel Engleman, which turned in a total of 84. Meantime the 20th MP Co, Canal Zone, was edging into fourth place one man behind the Kentucky contingent.

38TH CID LEADS: The 38th of Fourth Army area took first place in the CI race with 10 members. The 1st MP CID has 9, and 34th has 8.

100% GROUPS: Co A, 701st; PM Sec. Hq Second Army; PM Sec. Cp Breckinridge and 101st; Investigation Dept., TPMGS; 1st MP CID; PM Sec. Hq Seventh Army; MP Board and Ft Knox MP & CI officers.

2000th and 2,500th MEMBERS: Pfc Frank Weckel. Cincinnati, Ohio was No. 1,000. No. 1,500 was enrolled on 23 Nov. Cpl. Angelo J. Paladino, 553d MP Co Ft Campbell was congratulated on being MPA member No. 2,500, as of 8 Dec. From 23 Nov to 18 Dec membership increased 75%.

163rd Rates High on Battle Record

Also Hold Sports Championships

By SFC JOHN E. BERNARDY

FORT CUSTER — What makes a top outfit? Where do they find that extra something that singles it out from a thousand other units, as outstanding?

Cookie standing over the steaming pots and the KPs swear it's the food he and his men prepare and serve. "You gotta keep them filled don't you?" Of course the squad sergeant adds his bit about the squad being the basic unit in the Army. If the foundations are shaky the house can't be very sound. There's hardly a man in this crack outfit who can't give a reason for the unit's excellence. In the final analysis you realize that there is no one tangible thing to which you can point and say it made the outfit good. When the men are finally thrown together by a thousand quirks of Fate a part of their success must come through the men who lead them and those who direct the leaders.

To the men in the battalion — the designation 163rd — means much more than just three numerals. It's a name almost as important to them as their own. Each of them is an integral part of the team. Every act of theirs, both the good and the bad, will be reflected in the battalion's record. Each man, from the commanding officer to the private digging a foxhole at a bridgehead, is aware of this fact and accepts its guidance of his every move. They have good reason to revere the name of their battalion for its history is a long and brilliant one.

During a post-war reorganization of the National Guard the 121st Combat Engineer Battalion was consolidated with the 135th Combat Engineer Battalion. These two units were then redesignated as the 163rd MP Bn. The composite history of this battalion goes back to the days when a young nation was struggling for priceless independence against countries with ambitions for new lands. That's a good backgroud for a battalion with fighting spirit to spare. In tracing the lineage through musty files you'll find time honored names such as the First Legion, Columbian Brigade, Stull's Rifle Corps, Union Light Infantry and The Washington City Volunteers who fought against the Creek Indians more than a hundred years ago.

Let your eyes continue down through the records of Time and you'll find the predecessors of these modern day soldiers fighting in every major war in which this nation has participated. Today when the band sounds off and the battalion marches by, company by company, they're following the colors. Just under the spread eagle are the 163rd's battle streamers. They read off like the title page in a Valhalla best seller. Pick up your history book and you'll find each of these streamers and decorations engraved on the nation's history in bold letters:—

Fort Washington 1813, Bladensburg, (War 1812) Monterey, Vera Cruz (Mexican War), Valley, Manassas, Defense of Washington 1864 (Civil War) Santiago (War with Spain), France (WWI), Normandy (with asault arrowhead) Northern France, Ardennes, Alsace, Central Europe, Rhineland (WWII). The unit decorations include: the Distinguished Unit Streamer embroidered 'Northern France', Croix de Guerre streamer with palm embroidered 'Beaches of Normandy', and Meritorious Unit streamer embroidered 'European Theatre'.

As far as can be determined the 163rd MP Battalion is the top MP unit in number of streamers and honors. Certainly no other National Guard unit of comparable size is entitled to march behind as many decorations.

On 3 September 1950 the 163rd MP Bn. was placed on an active duty status and stationed at Ft. Custer, where it has trained since that date.

Of the 99 officers and enlisted men sent to school, 20 have placed first or second in their classes. That's a fine representation even for

The President's Message

"Few military men have understood throughout history—but every military man must understand—that his very existence depends on a wide public acceptance of his mission and that further, no modern war can be waged effectively unless it is supported by an aroused and continually sympathetic public opinion that extends all the way from the front lines back to the small war plant in the zone of the interior. One might observe that the day of the military martinet has passed; the day of the military diplomat is at hand." [1]

The very nature of the Military Police Corps, its mission, and the circumstances under which it functions seemed to make it a necessity to have some plan for bringing the officers and men of the Corps (and our counterparts in the other Services) closer together and for building prestige and support for members of the Corps not only with the public but also within the Services. Study of this problem, which has been the subject of thought for many years, resulted in the organization of the Military Police Association and the starting of the MP Journal.

By December the association had grown sufficiently for the group to start printing the Journal. The constitution had been submitted to the then members, and the decks were cleared for action. What happens in 1952 and the years ahead now depends, not on the few who started this project, but on all of us individually and collectively. The door is open for members everywhere to take concrete steps to contribute to the further growth and development for the greatest good of all. What ideas do you have? What suggestions for action do you wish to submit. Continue to sell the association to potential members, but also study the overall problem and help in building an enduring structure of which we can all be proud. The whole problem is YOUR baby. Non-coms particularly should take this project to heart. Carry on!

Your Other MOS [2]

Each of us, says the Army, shares the responsibility of making relations with the public good. And those involved in preventative and disciplinary enforcement, for the Armed Services, probably meet the public officially more than most members of the Services.

What the American people, and those of other nations where we have troops, think of the Armed Forces, or even our country, will be the total product of our individual actions.

So far as public relations are concerned it will reflect in most cases our military relations. What soldiers say when on a week-end pass, on leave, or in letters home is taken as the gospel by their friends, since they know the individual concerned and to them he's an expert giving the "inside dope." In the last analysis, the public will believe what soldiers say about the Services. Our civilian relations, therefore, can be only as good as our military relations.

Many officers say that the core of good military relations is knowing our men as individuals. Of course, there are many methods we can use in getting to know our men. These and many other things are discussed in Officers' Call, Volume 3, Number 8. They apply equally to non-coms and squad leaders all down the line.

But we were attracted to the issue mentioned because of the parallel that can be drawn in the case of the law enforcement personnel of the Services and the Military Police Association. We can attain our public relations goal only by teamwork. That means that all of us must "get into the act." The Corps isn't just a few persons at the top who make policy. It's all of us. The future of each of us is bound up in the future of our branch. We all share the responsibility. So let's help build a corps de 'elite by building an association and a publication which will help us individually and collectively, in our effort to bring about closer harmony and greater acquaintance among all who are interested in our work.

We are happy to add another honorary vice president to the list this month. Rear Admiral J. A. Hirshfield, U.S. Coast Guard, sent his acceptance just a few days too late for us to list him in the December issue. We are happy to have him as the representative of our co-workers of the US. Coast Guard. Welcome from all hands. Admiral Hirshfield wrote: "I am honored. . .to become an honorary vice president. . . .I agree that such an organization should certainly further cooperation among the services and esprit in their segments dealing with law enforcement and prevention. As you know, those two functions are very important in the Coast Guard manifold duties."

WE ARE, AS A NATION, recognized as a world leader. But when it comes to MP Associations we are not leading the pack. Read news extracted from ROYAL MILITARY POLICE JOURNAL in this issue, about Belgians, Dutch and British Military Police (Page 7).

"Duty is the only sure proving ground. Men, like motors, should be judged on their all-around performance. There is no other way to generate the steady pull over the long grind." The Armed Forces Officer.

What ideas have you or your outfit developed that help emphasize key principles?

The drawing of an archway shown here was devolped by someone in the 760th MP Bn in Panama about 1942. Larger reproductions of this drawing have been produced and distributed by Maj. J. A. Casey at PMGC. Col. F. E. Howard, PM in Panama at the time, was instrumental in organizing the 760th using several of the companies there including the 20th which has done a fine job of enrolling MPA members. There must be many projects like this arch which have been developed by members of the Corps over the years.

We would like to have any of these ideas and suggestions for ways of the crystalizing for members of the Corps, both old and new, some of the things which are important to keep in mind, or which might be helpful in building morale, or in training. If you don't have anything in your files than how about developing and forwarding a new idea?

Ninety MPs from 1240th ASU have recently completed a course at the New York Police Academy. Arrangements for this special training were worked out by LtC R. H. McIntire CO.

MPs 50th (NG) Armored Div. were given considerable publicity in the BOTANIST, employee magazine of Botany Mills, Inc. Passaic, N. J. (with pictures too!) The 416th MP (Res.) Co. of Pittsfield, Me., recently observed its first aniversary on EAD at Fort Jay.

Capt. S. N. Ohlbaum, Tuckahoe, N. Y., was the honor graduate of the Special Military Government Class No. 1, TPMGS. He received a citation of merit from the Military Government Assn. The familiar Pine Camp is now known as Camp Drum. The NEW YORK TIMES carried a story of the charges of mutiny against seven soldiers confined to the guardhouse at Fort Jay. According to the TIMES further evidence of rioting fighting and refusal to work was disclosed at the second session of the general courts-martial.

The Boston Military Police Committee as of 6 Dec. sent us their own competitive membership standing. It shows 5 RA & EAD; 36 ORC; 1 NG; 6 USN; 1 USCG; and 9 civilians including retired RA personnel. Of the 58 MPA members registered with that committtee 94th MP Co is first with 10; civilians second with 9; Shore Patrol Hq 7; etc. They have representatives of Hq 94th, 365th MP CID; N. E. PMO; 452d MP EG Co; 26th MP Co; 333d CIC; 320th MP Bn; 355th MP Co; 364th MP CID; MP Det Cp Edwards and 15 unassigned. A Pfc in New Hampshire reports that he has seen a badge done in gold with the words "U. S. Military Police." Anyone knowing of such a badge is urged to get in touch with the editor.

Thirteen members of the 42d MP Co. have joined MPA. This is just a start they say. The 716th minus Co. A went to Camp Drum in Dec.

Here is Your Opportunity to Have Your Say!

This magazine will publish legitimate gripes in a "sound off" column. Names will be used or withheld as requested. Complete name and address must accompany the letter and the editor reserves the right to publish such letters or extracts as seems best. In February we plan to publish an article about assault river crossings. We solicit your articles about operations and WELCOME comments on any that are published. At the moment we'd be happy to have data on MP helicopter experience, SOPs, organization of Logistical Commands, Engineer Special Brigade MP units, and any other subject of general interest to members of the Corps. And we won't expect to publish articles only by officers. Let's have some of the experiences of the old-timers who really know the ropes. Articles must be brief, illustrations should be included if pertinent. There are many problems that can be solved by an exchange of ideas. Who will make a contribution to the Corps?

Facts on U.S. Navy Shore Patrol

By Colonel E. S. Laue, USMC
Head, Corrective Services Branch
Department of the Navy

Navy Regulations provide the basic authority for the establishment of the U. S. Navy Shore Patrol.

The responsibility for discipline and standards of conduct for Navy personnel is vested in the Chief of Naval Personnel. For Marines the same responsibility is vested in the Commandant of the Marine Corps. To this end the Shore Patrol has been established to maintain order, to aid military personnel, and to protect their right, where necessary, in all contacts with civilians. In addition the Shore Patrol is charged with suppressing unseemly conduct, and with anticipating and preventing incipient disturbaces.

The Corrective Services Branch of the Bureau of Naval Personnel is assigned supervisory and technical control of the Shore Patrol. This includes the coordination and direction of matters relating to Shore Patrol activities and the development and promulgation of the necessary regulations and manuals setting forth naval policies and procedures for shore patrol operations.

Within the continental United States, the Commandant of each Naval District has cordinated control over all shore patrol activities within his district. Each Naval District is further sub-divided into areas. The administrative-operational control responsibility is assigned by the Commandant to a dominant naval activity in each area. The Director of Discipline in each District is the Commandant's representative in extending coordinative control for the operation of Shore Patrol within that district.

There are nw approximately three officers and forty enlisted men assigned to shore patrol duty n a permanent basis within each naval district. This permanent Shore Patrol provides shore patrol coverage within their area and maintains liaison with Federal and civil law enforcement agencies and with the Military Police and Air Police as required. In metropolitan areas and recreation centers frequented by naval personnel, this permanent Shore Patrol instructs personnel assiged to augment the patrol by providing information in regard to any special shore activities peculiar to the area concerned, and provides plans and assignments for patrols which will enable them to discharge their duties effectively.

The principal duties of the Shore Patrol are:

1. Render assistance to all members of the Armed Forces.
2. Maintain good order and discipline, prevent disorderly behavior among personnel of the Armed Forces ashore, apprehend all persons in an unauthorized absence status (and other offenders as necessary), and return them to their ship or station after proper processing of records.
3. Report to proper authority any conditions or practices in their area which appear prejudicial to the welfare of the Armed Forces.
4. Assist in the investigation of accidents, deaths, injuries, or offenses involving members of the Armed Forces ashore or off-station, wherein such matters are not under the cognizance of the Office of Naval Intelligence.
5. Maintain a respectful and friendly liaison with civil authorities and the community generally, by being alert in preventing disharmony prejudicial to the Armed Forces.
6. Maintain close liaison and coordination with the Military Police and Air Police, where established.

In summation, it may be said that the health and welfare of military personnel on leave or on liberty, and the prestige of the naval service, are direct responsibilities of the Shore Patrol. The greater the attention paid to the peformance of duty, the more efficiently can the Shore Patrol discharge these responsibilities. Tact, courtesy, helpfulness, and firmness (when necessary) must be practiced constantly. The trust reposed in the shore patrolman is great and personnel assigned to this duty must be of the highest caliber. Bot has individuals and units, they must maintain a high degree of efficiency and outstanding military appearance. It is the belief of the Navy Department that such stature can be achieved only by strict and constant adherence to all regulations, customs of the service and etiquette, and by the exercise of judgment, tact and firmness.

Two buddies, Glenn Beaver and Bill Wright are in 38th Inf. Bill has been recommende for SS. Pfc Bruce Wadsworth, Feb 51, Co A, Korea, Jul 51: "Well I didn't get in the MPs as I figured I would. Am typing and running a mimeograph machine in AGO."

Cpl. James Venue, May 51, Co B, Korea, Oct 51: "Regular mail takes 5 weeks to get here. Airmail about a week. Pavletich, killed in action; Frenchy Collins, wounded in action; Orkie June, burned when his tank was hit, but has returned to duty. Most of the boys are with 25th Div MPs, eight of us with I Corps, 5 with 1st Cav., a couple with 3rd Div., and quite a few with the infantry, including Lou Schneider. All of our replacements for MPs are coming from the infantry, and don't know MP work."

Pfc Rotenberger (later killed in action) Mar 51, Co B, Korea, Oct 51: "Assigned to 32d Inf along with Raley and Sanchelli. Had quite a march after an attack, 21 hours with ½ hr. break and not one man fell out. I had 10 rds of mortar ammo on my back and I used to think our packs were heavy. The boys at Camp Gordon never had it so good."

Pvt. Lou Schneider, May 51, Co B, Inchon, Korea, Jul 51: "Preparing to go in on landing craft. I am no longer a happy and contented MP, I'm a disillusioned infantryman." Pvt. Bill Grisham, Chunchon, Korea, Oct 51: "Twenty-five of us came to 57th MP Co., other boys went to 728th and a few to 59th. We work 8-hour shifts and its pretty cold over here, maybe that gives you a faint idea of the situation."

According to USA Combat Forces Journal for Dec. '51 a new street fighting course is now being taught at MPRTC. 2Lt Joe Choplick has been transferred from MPRTC to 391st Bn., Ft. Meade.

TPMGC Late News: Maj M. B. Norman, PIO will attend AA 12. Maj N. J. Kinley will take over temporarily. Lt. F. G. Clement, TPMGS, has returned to an inactive status. He will be in the Tennessee governor's race we hear. LtC. Ralph Vote will be assigned to TPMGS. A Canadian MP here for school reports than an MP Assn is contemplated in Canada. The men and three dogs still here were ordered to Cp Carson in December. Capt Roy Capshaw goes to AA 12. Capt. N. L. Engard worked as circulation manager for this issue, planning and setting up program for expanded deliveries. Capt. Brunnell has been alerted. The 504th MP Bn helped out in emergency created by explosion in Augusta gas plant.

Military Police Replacement Training Center

Visitors to the area of D Co, MP RTC, have recently been greeted with ever increasing activity in the form of improved landscaping. Brick, concrete slabs, and small picket fences have appeared all over the company area in an intensified beautifying project. A large bulldog, symbolizing the spirit of the dog troopers has been painted on the outside bulletin board and the paint brush has also been applied generously elsewhere. The day room has been renamed the "Kennel Club," and the trainees of the new cycle lost no time in learning to refer to themselves as "bullpups." The guiding spirit behind thenew outfit is the new Commanding Officer, Captain James D. Manning, recently returned from Korea, where he was asst. PM of the 24th Division.

Dog troopers also point with pride to the recent annexation by its touch football team, Captained by Sgt. Billy W. Rogers former end from Texas Christian University, of the post championship. The squad remained unscored on throughout the entire season until the final championship contest. In that game they gave up the first touchdown scored against their defense all year, but even that did not deny final victory to the "D" Company footballers.

Pvt. E. Morris, now with the 504th was honor graduate of the last "D" Co cycle which graduated on 24 Nov 1951. Great things are on tap in the near future for the Co "D" bulldogs, and all of us in the MPC should take pride in the fact that we have such an outstanding outfit turning out future MP's. Promoted recently to Cpl Wm B. Couch, Robert P. May to Pfc., Raymond E. Leck, Charles Hillebrandt.

U. S. Coast Guard

Seaman Russell S. Adams, cadreman at the Coast Guard training detachment of the MPRTC, won out over 18 soldiers at the Provost Marshal General center's Leadership school, to receive the American Spirit Honor medal when he graduated.

Seaman Adams was awarded the medal "for the display of outstanding qualities of leadership best expressing the American spirit of honor, initiative, loyalty and high example to comrades in arms."

This is the first time that the award sponsored by the Citizens committee for the Army, Navy and Air Force, Inc.,has been given to a Coast Guardsman at the Provost Marshal General center.

G. F. Hutchinson, Jr., and E. D. Wellington were promoted to Lt Comdr in Dec. (Continued on page 9).

Who is outstanding in your unit

MP organizations are invited to submit a head photo and sketch on ONE MAN (no officers) of their organization — the most outstanding in point of service, the most decorated, most MP service, or the one who has contributed the most to the Corps, Unit or community. Who is the most outstanding member of the Corps in your outfit?

The Provost Marshal General center's sergeant major, Sergeant W. M. McCrimon has been with the Military Police corps since its activation in 1941. It is a safe wager to bet that Sergeant McCrimon or "Mac" as he is called by his associates know more people in the Military Police corps, by name or sight, than anyone else.

From the time Sergeant McCrimon began his military career in 1928 at Fort Sill, Okla., with the Field Artillery, he has been a perfectionist. He is known to both officers and men as a frank, honest, component, soldier. He has a reputation for being a strict disciplinarian and a moulder of sound soldiers. "Mac" has served as an MP in Hawaii Leyte, Okinawa and for three years in Germany on occupation duty. He has held his present position at Camp Gordon since July, 1949.

a top outfit. Sports wise they have also excelled. It's a wonderful way to build physical condition, fighting efficiency, as well as the team spirit that wins battles. Just recently the 163rd team won the Fifth Army baseball championship. Last year it was the Ft. Custer football championship. It's taken a great deal of work and a deal more trying but it has been a tremendous success. The 163rd is a battalion of which the Army and the nation can well be proud.

Criminal Investigation Laboratory

During the past month we welcomed several new men. Four have joined the CI Laboratory, and three have been added to the staff of the Provost Marshal General CI Report Repository which is operated in conjunction with the Laboratory.

The new people include Capt D. A. Morton, now attending the Assoc. Co. Officers Course, Class 17, assigned to work in the analytical section, Lt W. L. Van Stratt, who comes from the Michigan State Police Crime Laboratory as a firearms examiner, Pvt. Walter Kriegshauser who will help in supply and Pvt. Keith Winters, a motion picture photographer, who is a trainee in our photography section.

New members of the Repository staff are SFC Francis Andrews who is returning to the Repository, Sgt. Robert Freeburg, formerly of 402nd Militay Government Company, and Sgt. J. T. Sigler, a transfer from duty in Germany.

The numerous promotions in the past month included Edward Jablon, chemist, to Corporal, and the promotions of Thomas C. Boersig, chemist trainee Joseph J. Garbarino chemist trainee, Thomas W. Johnson, firearms examiner trainee, Bradford Marvin, chemist trainee, Cornelius S. Ough, chemist trainee, Gerald F. Reise, photography trainee, and Charles R. Young, Jr., photography trainee, to PFC.

Two of our members have received transfer orders: SFC Joseph J. Roswech, former Chief Chemist here, has taken up his duties at the Army Environmental Health Laboratory, Army Chemical Center, Edgewood, Maryland, and SFC Alejandro B. Mondala will soon be leaving for Europe.

MSgt. D. A. Caywood, chief of the photographic section, has taken an extended leave. He plans to revisit Germany where he was formerly stationed. Capt. Ward S. Atherton, chief of the document section, visited California as courts-martial witness.

Arizona 1, California 392, Idaho 0, Montana 0, Nevada 0; Oregon 2; Utah 19 and Washington 12. As of 12 Dec.

Another first was achieved in the 701st MP Bn by Pfc. Wayne Schultz, Co. D, who completed an 8-weeks leadership training course at Ft. Ord. Wayne served 4-years in the Naval reserve. Co A, 701st breezed through playoffs with Hq 30th Engineers, winning two straight games, to lead in Presidio of San Francisco basketball. Squad included Merriotto, high point man; Oxford, Marugg, Reehrkasse, Eliason, Oakshott, Bradley and Wolfe. The champions were coached by Lt. H. K. Russel, 1949 All-American halfback at San Jose. The 701st sponsored one of the weekly post dances on 15 Nov. More than 500 people attended. The club was decorated with pictures of the 701st on duty and during the recent Japanese Peace Conference. Maj. P. L. Rice, Pfcs Tom Byrne and L. V. Miller made the arrangements and did the decorating. Co. A, 701st has 100 per cent membership in the MPA. The commander has received a letter of commendation from LtC E. L. Slob, Bn. CO.

On 27-30 November, the 701st MP Bn, commanded by LtC Elmer L. Slob, was tested under the provisions of ATT 19-7. The Bn consisting of Bn Hq, Co A, 50 per cent of Co B, 50 per cent of Co C, and Co D moved to the Hunter-Liggett Military Reservation by Motor March. Fifty per cent of Co B remained at the Presidio of San Francisco to continue post operations, while 50 per cent of Co C accomplished the same mission at Fort MacArthur. This test, which saw the whole Battalion together in the field for the first time since it returned from China, proved to be very profitable and instructive. It brought out the need for additional training in certain phases of field operations, but it also proved that there is excellent spirit and high morale in the organization. The test was conducted with a considerable amount of realism largely due to a very fine performance of the "Aggressors" furnished by the 7th Armored Division and the 505th MP Bn, both from Cp Robert. At 0500, 28 Nov., the situation became tactical and remained so until 2934, 29 Nov. During that period every phase of MP work was exploited, including traffic control, handling of POWs, subversive agents establishing of check point TPs, TCPs daylight motor marches night motor marches, and action against guerilla activities. When the Bn departed for its respective stations at 1040, 30 Nov., everyone agreed that they had gained valuable experience and had participated in an interesting problem. The 701st Kiltie band got a nice play with pictures in the ARMY INFORMATION DIGEST for Dec. We will cover later.

7th ARMORED DIV: Maj. J. M. Coffee transferred from Cp. Stonehan to Cp. Roberts to take over confinement work vice Maj. G. E. Sapora, Armored Cav. Capt. R. H. Lee, now assigned as Police Officer and Grounds Maintenance; Lt. A. L. Johnson, has returned from TPMGS; Traffic School is being continued with marvelous results. We are appointing a news reporter for MP Journal. Lt. Raymond Waters sent in 21 memberships for the Sixth MP Co, Ft. Ord.

S Sgt R. T. Keller, Augusta, Ga., has been assigned non-com in charge of the Boise Idaho, Air Police town patrol for the Mountain Home AFB. Sgt. Donald Stringfellow Seattle POE did quite a job with his article in COLLIER'S of 17 Nov. Nice picture of the Sgt and mention of the Article "I See Them Kiss and Cry" on cover. LtC. P. H. Hill, PM 7th Armored, is a faithful worker. He sent in 8 more memberships.

Information on personnel returning for ZI assignment should be reported by unit correspondents. Such news is not generally available to the editor. Be alert for news of these returnees. Friends are anxious for this news!

PMs of History Parade Once More

For the celebration of the 10th Anniversary of the Corps at TPMGC a historical skit was produced last Sept. under direction of LtC D. K. Hughes. Costumes were secured, a large hollow-book was built on a truck and the pages of history were opened starting with the year 1066. As Lt. F. G. Clement narrated the history of Provost Marshals over the centuries, the various actors representing PMs of various periods stepped out of the pages of the book. Shown on the right are a few of those representing MPs of the past. This skit followed very closely the facts as given, for the early years, in "The History of the Corps of Royal Military Police," reviewed on page 9 of this issue.

From left to right: Representing year 1066,—Capt. F. J. Thomas in armor; (England); 1620,—Capt. C. L. Kelley, (England); Charles I period, Capt. W. M. Niles, (Virginia); 1776,—Capt. F. J. Witta, (George Washington's Colonial Army); 1862,—LtC G. C. Bergin (Civil War).

Not shown PMs of "Doughboy" period 1917,—Pvt. L. D. Lindauer; 1941,—PM typical of those serving in Canal Zone and Hawaii, Cpl. David Warfel; and 1951,—Sgt. Ralph Craig, today's MP. Sgt. Craig stoood between the open pages and did not leave the book—for current MPs continue to make history throughout the world.

News of Our British Counterparts

Also Belgians and Dutch

Editor's Note:—It was believed that the following extracts from the ROYAL MILITARY POLICE JOURNAL might be of interest.

In the RMP Journal published in March 1951 there is a photo of the NATO Provost Conference group. The U.S. Army was represented by LtC. W. P. Yarborough (planning staff). This was labeled as the "First International Provost Conference." All other countries were represented by Provost Marshals or commanders of Corps of Military Police (i.e. LtC. Pottier, Belgium.) The conference dealt solely with MP matters. The conference was held at the British C.R.M.P. Depot. "Each country undertook to supply a table showing their opposite numbers to our (British) Provost appointments in various formations. When this is issued every military police finding himself working with an allied Army will know exactly who to see, whether his problem be discipline, crime, security, traffic control, or movement planning."

On page 69 is a large photograph of the Provost Marshal (Brigadier L.F.E. Wieler) inspecting the 622d MP Co. (US) along with Brigadier General Van Brunt, C/S, I Corps in Korea. Also mentioned is a personal letter from LtC. R. R. Reagan, PM I Corps (US) to the Provost Marshal telling of the award of the BSM to Maj. Evans, A.P.M. 1st Commonwealth Division in Korea. Also mentioned is the cooperation of the S.H.A.P.E. Independent Provost Unit with the 520th MP Sv. Co (US) and Gendarmerie Nationale in handling the security of Supreme Hq.

According to the PM 21st Army Group (WW II) after the war the Belgium MPs formed "La Fraternelle de la Military Police" and sent representatives to England to visit Corps activities. The PM later visited the Belgiums when they celebrated the fifth anniversary of their association. Major Bodart was (then) Commandant of the Belgian miltary police school at Tervuren.

The British have a Corps Museum which is evidently getting fine support. In. the Spring 1950 issue Maj. E. A. Farmer reports on his visit with two other ranks to the Netherlands Military Police (The Marechaussee). Prior to 1940, the Marechaussee which started in 1818, was a semi-military police force, officered by selected Army officers, which controlled the frontiers of the country, protected the Royal family and handled internal disturbances or riots. It is now a part of the new Dutch Army.

BOOSTER FOR AN ASSOCIATION: W. M. Snyder (then a cadet in MP ROTC U of Texas) prepared a treatise in 1949 "A Recommendation for the Establishment of a Branch Association for the Corps of Military Police with Suggestions Pertinent to Organizing such an Association." This paper which includes a fine historical account of service associations is on file in the Office of The Provost Marshal General. At about the same time Lt. Col. Ralph E. Pearson was completing his master's thesis at the University of Missouri, "The Need for a Military Police Association and Publication, and the Promotion of such a Project."

The 38th MP CID took the lead among CID with ten MPA members. They received a letter of congratulations from VP Col. Penaat. What CID can top this? Col. E. A. Littlefield, onetime Deputy PM in Panama, now ret. lives at 9530 Galway Dr. in Dallas. Lt. D. S. Lintvet, PMGS has been transferred to 1st Armored Div.

The 38th MP CID, Cp Polk, La., sent the MPA a very attractive Christmas greeting in the form of a CI report done in red and green ink. It invited those addressed to appear in the office to help dispose of certain evidence which had been collected for the occasion. (14 Dec. too late now for MPA members to all turn out.)

Among those receiving a gift membership in the MPA was Homer Garrison, Director, Texas Department of Public Safety. Mr. Garrison sent in a very fine letter of appreciation to Major Jubeck, which said in part: "We know that we will enjoy this publication and I appreciate the honor of being elected a member of this Association."

47th Div. MP Rates High in Army Physical Test

Accumulating an almost unbelievable score Stanley W. Hall, 20-yr old Pfc, chalked up a stupendous 471 points of a possible 500 in the Army's physical efficiency test. Hall currently on DS with Co C, MPRTC, is a member of the 47th MP Co, Cp Rucker, Ala. He jumped into prominence when he made a total score with enough points to match almost those of any two other men taking the test. Outstanding event was the accmplishment of 120 pushups. Maximum point score of 100 for this event calls for 54.

FIRST ARMY — Late News

See page 3 for additional news of First Army. A farewell party was given by the PM Sec for LtC R. W. Chutter and Maj. C. F. Snyder who will depart for Eucom 11 Jan. First Army units will be well represented at Operation Snowfall, Cp Drum, during early part '52. Maj R. Barrell will represent 1st Army during maneuvers. The 716th MP Bn, commanded by LtC A. G. Russell, jr., less one Co will take part; also part of 331st MP CID Ft Dix. One platoon of 716 will join Aggressor force. MP officers from throughout the U. S. were among recent graduates in basic administration safety at New York U. First Army PM Sec has been invaded by members WAC. Administrative Div is headed by Lt M. M. McCarthy, (CO Class 6); M Sgt K. Albin, M Sgt T. Holt, SFC M. Burns and Pvt M. Silva are in important clerical positions in Administrative, CI, and apprehension divisions. The PM Sec, Hq 1st Army has 100% membership in MPA. Maj H. B. Wells, PM N. E. M. P. Area, Boston has been nominated for short course C&GSC. A nice Christmas card was received from Mil Pol Committee, Boston by Col. Howard. A GOOD JOB — WELL DONE: SFC L. M. Santini and Pvt Timothy Finn, MP Det Ft Jay, while having coffee in a diner felt they were seeing a familiar face. Checking the wanted posters they returned to apprehend a California soldier who was wanted for alleged larceny, U. S. Army payroll, desertion and fraudulent enlistment.

SIXTH ARMY — Late News

See page 6 of additional Sixth Army news. Sgt. R. Keiser, SFC J. R. Chretian, Cpl J. H. Torgeson, M Sgt. G. Hageman and Sgt T. J. Guzzetti, Cp Robert MPs completed the FBI fingerprint course at Paso Robles. A program to acquaint enlisted personnel with activities of "Con-men" is being coordinated in Sixth Army by PMO and TI&E. Posters circulated to Cp Roberts Commands have brought good results.

A number of MP units are sending us copies of their TI&E news letters, "Police Call" from 503d; "The 175th Military Police Gazette," etc. Units which have such publications are urged to send them to the editor. It is recommended that other units that do not have such publication consider the idea. At any rate appoint a reporter for the MILITARY POLICE JOURNAL. Send us all the news!

"Battlefield eyes. The dream of all generals — being able to see every part of the battlefield at once—may come true through electronics. Last fortnight the U. S. Army Signal Corps unveiled a set of giant television 'eyes' carried in four 31-foot boxes and costing about $200,000. Each box contains three TV cameras, ten receivers and a projector for life size pictures. The sets will be used to televise troops maneuvers for commanders in the field." Pathfinder.

TO BECOME A MEMBER or enroll others send name and address with $2.00 to the Association. Make checks and money orders payable to Maj. J. F. Jubeck, the "tightest" handler of funds this side of Scotland. Also be sure to notify the MPA of any change of address to avoid missing future issues. The mail from all over the world is becoming increasingly heavier, but don't hold up on memberships or news.

The Military Police Board

It's Capt. now! M Sgt. John E. Cutshall, artist of the MPB, member of the Executive Council and assistant editor of the MP Journal, has been recalled as a captain. He has been assigned to 3460 ASU Ft. McClellan instead of Anniston, Ala as stated in Dec. An old timer both in military and civil police activities Capt. Cutshall has been with the MPB for the past two years. While with the MPB, he helped provide illustrations for the new 19-series MP manuals and film strips. Always ready to lend a helping hand not only to the MPB staff, but also to other activities at Cp Gordon. His cartoons have been published frequently and at one time he was editor of the Second Army Recruiting magazine. He will be missed by all who knew him. Good luck John! Maj M. F. Lueck is attending Air Command and Staff College, Maxwell AFB. Capt. J. A. Webster has spent 4-months TDY at Scott AFB. LtC E. R. Cooley, member of the Executive Council, has been alerted for Alaska.

Can you name the authorities that govern military police in the execution of their enforcement of traffic rules? They are AR 700-105, Orders of the CO; Civil traffic regulations and The Army Safety Program (SR 385-155-1) says TPMGS.

For Speeches: The Bible says a crude sort of standing army dates from the time of Saul who had a band of 3,000 men (1 Sam. 13:2) Under David it consisted of twelve divisions of 24,000 footmen each (1 Chron. 27:1-15). The Israelites had a military organization from the time they left Egypt (Num. 11:21). It consisted of infantrymen who used the spear, sling and bow; and every man twenty years old and upward was a soldier, the Levites only being not so enrolled (Num. 1:3, 48-50). After the settlement of Palestine, no such organization was in evidence. When war threatened, heralds were dispatched throughout the land to muster the forces and the troops who responded were divided into thousands and hundreds. (Judg. 6:34, 35)

So you have not been promoted: "In 1848, Colonel Hugh Brady of the 2d Infantry had been a colonel for 26 years. Many officers, in those days, remained lieutenants 25 to 30 years." MG W. B. Palmer.

Material to Help Field Being Prepared by MP Board

Test Planned on the Use of Helicopters by MP Units

The Monthly Progress Report of The Military Police Board contains a great deal of information of interest to the field. Since the report, is not available to the field this summary is being included in the MILITARY POLICE JOURNAL.

FM 19-10 "Military Police Operations" fwd to OPMG 6 Nov 51; FM 19-15, "Civil Disturbances" revised draft to OPMG late 1951; FM 19-30 "Military Industrial Security" revised and fwd to OPMG about 17 Dec. FM 19-40 "Handling Prisoners of War" fwd to OPMG 22 Oct. 51; FM 19-90 "The Provost Marshal" fwd to OPMG 9 Apr 51; FM 19-91 "The Combat Zone Provost Marshal" about 27% completed; FM 19-92 "The Communications Zone Provost Marshal" about 20% completed.

A pamphlet "Operation Planning Checklist" is to be completed in March. A series of 24 Technical Bulletins are in process and two have already been produced, as annouced below. All will cover criminal investigation subjects. A staff study, the "Provost Marshal Command Inspection Checklist" is in the process of being revised, as is a TB on "Report Writing". A TB "Disposition of Property in Custody of or Possession of Military Police" is expected to be ready to submit to OPMG early this month.

FS 19-9 "Fingerprint Examination" has been fwd to OPMG. FS 19-7 "Riot Control Formations" is being remade in three parts. A number of other film plans have been prepared which will be covered in future issues of the MILITARY POLICE JOURNAL.

Service tests have been completed on "Reflectorized Material, on a Practical Qualification Course for Revolver, Cal. .38, 2-in. barrel; and on Public Address Set AN/PIQ-2 ( ) T1. One of the several interesting tests planned will be on the use of Helicopters by MP Units.

A-N-AF Journal reports two D-A Technical Bulletins TB PMG-1 "Narcotics-Marihuana" and TB PMG-2 "Counterfeiting" have just been published. Soon to be published are "Blood and Body Fluids" and "Component Comparison — Firearms Identification."

History of Royal Military Police

An interesting well documented HISTORY OF THE CORPS OF ROYAL MILITARY POLICE presented to the officers and men of the American Military Police by one who served with them during the European invasion has just been received by Col. F. E. Howard. The 100,000 word book with attractive illustrations and maps was presented by Sgt. Nicholls of the British Royal Military Police.

The history was edited by Major S. F. Crozier, M.B.E., and published by Gale and Polden, Ltd. of Adershot England. The forward is by Gen. Sir Miles Dempsey, K.C.B., K.B.E., D.S.O., M.C., Colonel Commandant Corps of Royal Military Police.

The book covers everything from "The Provost Service, 1511-1939" to the "Roll of Honour, 1939-1945." There is a chapter on the Great War, 1914-1918, and chapters on the Second World War, covering mobilization and the B.E.F., at home, North Africa, Italy, North-West Europe, and other theatres and stations overseas. There is also a chapter on the "Special Investigation Branch," and "Corps Associations." There is a list of provost marshals of the United Kingdom and overseas theatres from the sixteenth century to 1948.

The first PM of the (British) Army, as distinct from the PM who was an officer of State, was appointed in 1643 to the Royalist Army. The first PM appointed from the ranks of the Military Police was Major Thomas Trout, in 1861. Assistants to the early PMs were rarely soldiers, but in 1810 a body of troops were ordered by the Duke of Wellington to perform the duties of military police under the PM. These were the first professional soldiers to become military policemen. In 1835 the prerequisites for MPs were: "men of not less than 5 years service, if of ten the better, of sober habits, intelligent, active and capable of exercising sound discretion. This development was the beginning of the existing organization of the Corps of Military Police.

"History of the office of the provost marshal and the Corps of Military Police" giving many additional details about the earlier years was published in 1943 by Major Lovell-Knight, now editor of the ROYAL MILITARY POLICE JOURNAL.

175th MP GAZETTE: Capt. Blattner, B Co has been shifted to Hq Co and replaced by Capt. D. L. Smith formerly of Hq Co. It's 3-day pass time and there is much being said about Gay Paree and Switzerland. 175th is assigned to 7th Army. Bob Hogan and Charlie Thiesse, B Co made the Honor Roll at Seventh Army typing School. Pfc Abe "Chick" Chidekel is the 1951 Stuggart Military Post table tennis champion. The most decorated member of the 175th Cpl. F. W. West has reenlisted for 6-years. Four nations decorated him for WW II exploits. He has two purple hearts. (Why not send in his picture?). Other reenlistments include Sgt. M. R. Thurman, Cpl. E. F. Kluge, Cpl S. Orozco and Cpl W. E. Jones.

LtC G. H. Barrows, ExO Hq 7th Army PM Sec. sent in memberships for 100 per cent of PM officers, two EMs, and Special Troops PM, Capt. Driscoll. Says "All of the new members join in wishing success to the MPA and to its monthly publication." Maj. A. P. Ross and Capt. J. R. Walpole of the Intelligence and Military Police School are new members. Walpole expects to be rotated soon. Provost Marshals of Eucom and USFA attended a PM conference at Berchtgaden recently. So far we have no news of the meeting to pass on.

V Corps landed on Omaha, and VII Corps on Utah beach as the seaborne assault started at 060630 June 1944. Both are again in Europe. The divisions on the beach by nightfall were 1st (now in Eucom), 29th (NG now organized in Maryland and Virginia), 4th all infantry, the 82d and 101st airborne. For details read CROSS-CHANNEL ATTACK latest volume of official Army history.

LtC J. S. Killough commands the 508th M P Bn. Capt. J. E. Hyde, Trieste sent in two memberships for Italy.

Maj. Lloyd C. Hummert formerly with TPMGS, is transferred from the 508th to 2d Armored Div. as PM.

Det "A" 7802 BPE now has 69 members which with the others in the area submitted by LtC Y. E. Snider makes the BPE area about 100% for MPA. Italy is included in Eucom.

Civil Affairs/Military Government Seminar

The many ways that Civil Affairs/Military Government helps the tactical cammander were explained November 14-16 at a CA/MG Seminar conducted by Headquarters V Corps.

The Seminar was an implementation of current EUCOM training directives. Approximately 40 officers and men from the Corps' non-divisional units attended. In addition, CA/MG personnel representing Seventh Army, VII Corps, and the 1st Infantry, 4th Infantry; and 2d Armored Divisions visited the meeting.

The Seminar was held at Corps Headquarters, Bad Nauheim, Germany. It was directed by Col. James I. Martin, MPC; Chief, Military Government Section, Headquarters V Corps.

Alert MPs In Korea Avert Train Wreck By Quick Action

WITH I CORPS IN KOREA—As they bumped along the dusty Korean road through the eerie darkness, Sgt. Bruce E. Rice, and PFC Curtis O. Stewart, peered ahead for the inevitable holes that dot Korean highways.

As they rounded a bend in the road and jolted over a railroad crossing, Sergeant Rice noticed something amiss along the track. Stopping his jeep and going back to investigate, the Military Policeman saw that a section of the track was missing.

Jumping back into the jeep, the two men rushed to the Military Police information booth a few miles up the road and reported what they had found. Swiftly the rail transportation officer was notified and, just as swiftly, the MPs were informed that a freight train loaded with vitally needed supplies was on the tracks speeding northward. It would hit that part of the track within a few minutes and must have stopped.

Jumping back into their jeep, the MPs raced back to the railroad crossing, grabbed a flashlight and stumbled southward along the tracks as they heard the distant wail of a train whistle.

In a moment the train loomed into view and the two MPs, standing in the middle of the track, frantically flashed their light back and forth to attract the attention of the engineer. When the train screeched to an abrupt halt, they informed the Korean engineer and crew of what had happened. The train then patiently idled on the track, its steam hissing in the cold night, as emergency crews repaired the track. As soon as it was repaired, the train sped on its way to deliver its cargo.

With the emergency over, the two MPs went along their way, another incident in their daily lives completed and in the books.

POLICE HISTORY: Organizations corresponding to the modern police were not known in ancient times they say. In Greek cities the duties of the citizen included those of police. Such duties in Rome were divided among various officers. In modern cities, there were night watchmen before police services were organized. Continental Europe had such organizations earlier then England, where they were disapproved as instruments of political espionage and oppression. The police of Russia were famous, as were the police of Paris under Napoleon. London had no police force until 1753. The organization then formed was soon abolished. The history of the present organization begins with 1792. Until 1845, New York had only night watchmen. A uniformed police force was organized in that year. Scotland Yard is a short street in London, named for a palace, which in the 11th and 12th centuries was the residence of Scottish Kings when they visited England. It became the headquarters of the metropolitan police. In 1890 new headquarters known as New Scotland Yard were established on the Thames embankment. For further information see R. B. Fosdick, American Police Systems, 1920; and European Police Systems, 1915; and E. D. Draper, American Police Administrations, 1909; G. Dilnot, The Story of Scotland Yard, J. F. Moylan, Scotland Yard and the Metropolitan Police.

Worried about uniform costs? It's a good thing then that you are not a member of the Royal Guards of the King of England. The officers of that outfit have to lay out $7000 for a complete uniform.
