Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri

MSCoE Sends: August is Antiterrorism Awareness Month — you are the installation's eyes and ears

During the month of August, we observe Antiterrorism Awareness Month to remind everyone of the responsibility we share to protect each other. Community involvement is key to force protection success. Diverse backgrounds and experiences of our team members enable us to better recognize specific threats to our people and our missions.

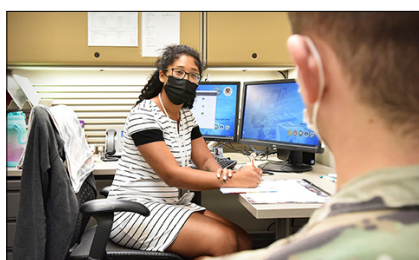

14th MPs upgrade SHARP training at reception

Within a week of arriving at Fort Leonard Wood, new initial entry trainees are finding out how seriously the Army takes its Sexual Harassment and Assault Response Prevention policies through an updated training program conducted by the 14th Military Police Brigade during the week-long reception process.

Fort Leonard Wood leaders focus on community outreach at August Community Information Forum

Senior garrison leaders here hosted the August Community Information Forum virtually via the Fort Leonard Wood Facebook page Wednesday.

Fort Leonard Wood program uses holistic approach to prevent suicides

Leaders on post have brought together the skills of professionals from the General Leonard Wood Army Community Hospital, the Army Substance Abuse Program, Army Community Service and others to provide a holistic suicide awareness program focused on not only treatment but prevention.

Heightened awareness, vigilance key to protecting resources from terrorism

This month marks the 12th annual observance of Army Antiterrorism Awareness Month. The purpose is to instill Army wide heightened awareness and vigilance and to prevent and protect critical Army resources from acts of terrorism.

Fort Leonard Wood Air Force ground transportation unit hosts annual summit, competitive rodeo event

The 368th Training Squadron hosted a ground transportation summit and competitive rodeo event this week, bringing together more than 150 Airmen – from senior career field managers to junior enlisted vehicle operators – from installations worldwide to discuss the future of their specialty and have some friendly competition.

Five lesser-known things about the Purple Heart

Saturday is Purple Heart Day, which commemorates the men and women — and a horse and two dogs — who have been killed or wounded during military service. It seems many people know how it's earned and that it is the oldest military award still given to service members, but here are a few more pieces of information that are perhaps less well known.

Opportunities abound at the post thrift shop

The Fort Leonard Wood Thrift Shop has been providing quality second-hand goods to service members, their families and community members here for 55 years.

ARMY NEWS

Sexual assault prevention starts on day one, Army senior leaders say

While leaders continue to expect a lot from their Soldiers, the Army should get “back to the basics of taking care of our people,” the Army secretary said July 27 during an event for the Resiliency Program Improvement Forum.

Interns are emerging Army leaders

The U.S. Army Training and Doctrine Command commitment to developing talented and emerging leaders is not limited to only military members but for civilians as well through a variety of available internship programs.

Expert Soldier Badge: Increasing Soldier lethality

The Expert Soldier Badge tests a Soldier's performance in physical fitness and warfighting tasks, similar to the Expert Infantry Badge and Expert Field Medical Badge. Since the announcement of the ESB, on the Army's 244th Birthday, nearly 5,000 Soldiers have attempted to attain the badge.

Commissaries, industry suppliers partner to create more savings for the military community

More opportunities to save are on the horizon for commissary customers thanks to a new initiative called, “Come Home to Savings, Shop Your Local Commissary,” created by the Defense Commissary Agency and its industry suppliers.

HEROES^{OF} THE BATTLEFIELD

Capt. Terra Forward, Fort Leonard Wood's Public Health Emergency Officer, continually provides consultation to every leader here. She is an expert in her field and is gifted at presenting complex data and medical information that enables senior leader recommendations and decision making. She has been an outstanding partner to local public health teams and school districts as they face decisions on safe procedures for reopening. Forward is a strong asset to Army medicine and the Army as a whole, supporting both the healthcare delivery and readiness missions.

Colleen Pumphrey, from the 43rd Adjutant General Battalion, is an invaluable member of the Night Initial Receiving Branch team. She is always willing to take the lead and do whatever is needed to complete the mission, including routinely rising to challenges including training an ever-changing cycle of borrowed military manpower, who support medical and financial tasks associated with in-processing trainees. Pumphrey is always enthusiastic, respectful and willing to collaborate. To date, her efforts have influenced and been instrumental in on-boarding more than 17,000 trainees.

LEONARD WOOD JUSTICE

Courts-Martial

— A captain plead guilty at a General Court-Martial to two specifications of rape of a child, one specification of rape, and one specification of sexual assault. The officer was sentenced to 17 years confinement, forfeiture of all pay and allowances, and a dismissal from the Army.

Reprimands

— A second lieutenant received a permanently filed General Officer Memorandum of Reprimand for driving while intoxicated. Separation from the Army initiated.

— A staff sergeant received a permanently filed General Officer Memorandum of Reprimand for driving while intoxicated.

— A specialist received a permanently filed General Officer Memorandum of Reprimand for driving while intoxicated.

Other Misconduct

— A private first class received nonjudicial punishment pursuant to UCMJ, Article 15, for fighting with another Soldier. The commander punished the Soldier with extra duty for seven days.

— A private received nonjudicial punishment pursuant to UCMJ, Article 15, for failure to follow a lawful order by failing to turn in a personal electronic device at the ordered time. The commander punished the Soldier with a forfeiture of pay.

— In July, 27 service members and civilians were convicted at Federal Magistrate Court for serious traffic offenses occurring on Fort Leonard Wood.

NOTE: Soldiers administratively separated receive one of three characterizations of service: Honorable, General, or Other Than Honorable. Anything less than Honorable may result in the loss of certain benefits and negatively impact employment and education opportunities.
