Acronyms, abbreviations, and special terms used in this regulation are explained in the glossary.

4. General

a. The Army FAP is command-driven. The ACS assists commanders by providing accessible and complementary activities and services as well as a variety of training and support programs. ACS is the agency responsible for the overall management of the FAP. According to AR 608-18, paragraph 2-1, the Family Advocacy Program Manager (FAPM) administers and directs the installation on family advocacy matters and is the installation commander's primary representative and subject matter expert on child and spouse/intimate partner abuse.

b. All matters concerning administration, management, prevention, and direct services of the FAP will be directed through the FAPM. Prevention and education are key components of the FAP. All family advocacy training and briefing requests for community, command, and troop education and prevention programs in family and domestic violence will be coordinated through the FAPM. Command consultation is available for all matters.

c. Many instances of domestic violence and child abuse/neglect constitute violations of the law. AR 608-18 delineates the reporting requirement in child abuse cases, indicating all installation law enforcement personnel, medical and social work providers, school personnel, FAP and Child & Youth Services (CYS) personnel, and certain others will report all known or suspected incidents of abuse. All Soldier, employee and member of the military community should be encouraged to report such incidents. AR 608-18 and Department of Defense Instruction 6400.06 delineate the unrestricted and restricted reporting options for domestic violence victims to include spouses and intimate partners. All allegations of spouse/intimate partner abuse and child abuse/neglect will be reported to Social Work Services (SWS) FAP immediately. SWS FAP will serve as the reporting point of contact (RPOC) for the installation and can be reached at (573) 596-1507 (duty hours). On evenings, weekends, and holidays, the RPOC can be reached through the Family Violence Response Line at (573) 596-0446 or the General Leonard Wood Army Community Hospital (GLWACH) Emergency Room at (573) 596-0456. Child abuse/neglect will also be reported to the Directorate of Emergency Services (DES) at (573) 596-6141 and to the State of Missouri Child Abuse Hot Line at 1-800-392-3738. Unrestricted reports of spouse/intimate partner abuse will be reported to the DES at (573) 596-6141.

d. The Chief, SWS FAP coordinates FAP-direct services and treatment at GLWACH to include spouse/intimate partner or child abuse assessment, intervention, and clinical treatment services. Upon referral of an abuse incident report to the Case Review Committee (CRC), the appropriate level commander will be notified of the abuse incident report. All military personnel identified by the FAP CRC as experiencing family violence will be required to participate in counseling and education programs as prescribed in AR 608-18. Participation by Family members in such programs is voluntary, but highly recommended. A Family member's failure to participate in such programs may result in termination of residence in on-post housing or being barred from post. Participation may be a court-imposed requirement should the case be handled by the Magistrate.

e. Commanders are responsible for ensuring compliance with AR 608-18. At a minimum, the following will be done:

(1) Commanders at all levels will be aware of –

(a) The nature of spouse and child abuse, and how to prevent it.

(b) FAP policies and procedures.

(c) Available FAP prevention services and resources.

(d) Command responsibilities for identification, reporting, and coordination with CRC.

(2) Unit commanders will attend and ensure that senior enlisted advisers attend the mandatory FAP Commander Brief within 45 days of appointment to a command position.

(3) Commanders will ensure that all military personnel are scheduled and attend annual FAP troop education provided by FAP personnel.

(4) Commanders will identify, report, and refer individuals involved in child and spouse/intimate partner abuse to the CRC for mandatory evaluation, counseling, and referral assistance.

(5) Commanders will refer individuals to the CRC immediately following notification of an alleged offense. The notification will occur no later than 24 hours after the command is made aware that an incident has occurred. Any delay may place a victim at unnecessary risk.

(6) Commanders will consider Suspension of Favorable Personnel Actions (Flag) according to AR 600-8-2 if permanent change of station or other actions would prove detrimental to progress in the case.

(7) Commanders will ensure that Military personnel is scheduled a date and time to participate in all required counseling or treatment.

(8) Commanders will be present for all CRC meetings involving their Soldiers. Commanders may send the unit first sergeant, sergeant major, or command representative in the case of a schedule conflict. The SWS FAP staff is responsible for notifying commanders of meeting dates and times.

(9) Commanders should consider CRC recommendations when taking disciplinary or administrative action against individuals in child abuse and domestic violence cases. Episodes of child and spouse abuse can provide the basis for disciplinary and administrative action. No actions will be delayed while awaiting the receipt of CRC recommendations.

(10) Military personnel involved in allegations of child or spouse/intimate partner abuse should be encouraged to seek assistance through self-referral. Those who seek treatment or assistance for abuse challenges may initiate the evaluation and intervention process by voluntarily disclosing the nature and extent of their problems to their unit commander or FAP counseling personnel.

f. Following a report of abuse, the FAP has the responsibility for ensuring that procedures exist to protect victims of abuse and approve measures that will serve to protect abuse victims from further harm. Victims of domestic violence have the right to take reasonable actions to protect themselves and to be protected from abuse. Any victim may contact the installation Domestic Abuse Victim Advocate (DAVA) Program at ACS, FAP for assistance at (573) 596-0212 (duty hours) or (573) 528-5784 (evenings, weekends, and holidays). The rights of the alleged offender must also be respected and preserved throughout the life of the case.

g. IAW AR 608-18, the Garrison Commander will appoint and place on orders the members of the Fort Leonard Wood FAP Fatality Review Committee (FRC). The FRC will review any DoD related fatality known or suspected to have resulted from an act of domestic violence, child abuse, or suicide related to an act of domestic violence or child abuse that involve personnel assigned to the installation or within its area of responsibility.

5. Domestic violence and the 72-hour separation procedures

a. Violence against a spouse or intimate partner is contrary to the values and standards of the Department of Defense (DoD). The issue of domestic violence affects the community as a whole, and therefore, a coordinated community response is required. This regulation—requiring a minimum mandatory 72-hour separation period for spouses or intimate partners involved in domestic disputes—will help eliminate further domestic conflicts and enhance the safety of military Families, thereby, improving the quality of life in the FLW military community.

b. According to AR 608-18, spouse/partner maltreatment is an incident or incidents that indicate an emerging pattern or risk of further victimization of the spouse/partner and may include coercive control, threatening behavior, withholding economic resources, intimidation, isolation, physical assaults or threats of physical violence with or without a weapon, stalking, sexual assault, or emotional maltreatment.

c. Domestic violence is an offense under the United States Code, the Uniform Code of Military Justice, or state law that involves the use, attempted use, or threatened use of force or violence against a person, or a violation of a lawful order issued for the protection of a person who is—

(1) A current or former spouse.

(2) A person with whom the abuser shares a child in common.

(3) A current or former intimate partner with whom the abuser shares or has shared a common domicile.

d. Domestic abuse is domestic violence or a pattern of behavior resulting in the emotional/psychological abuse, the economic control, or the interference with the personal liberty of another individual when such violence or abuse is directed toward a person, who is—

(1) A current or former spouse.

(2) A person with whom the abuser shares a child in common.

(3) A current or former intimate partner with whom the abuser shares or has shared a common domicile.

e. Sexual assault in spouse/partner maltreatment is a sexual assault(s), threat(s) of sexual assault, or coercing a partner to engage in undesired sexual activity with the alleged offender or other persons.

f. When an active duty Service member is the alleged offender in a domestic incident involving either a physical assault, sexual assault, or a verbal dispute in which the police (military or civilian) must intervene, commanders will require the Service member to be placed in the barracks or with a command-assigned individual for a minimum of 72 hours.

g. According to AR 608-18, paragraph 3-21, d(3), commanders will issue a military no-contact order delineating the conditions of the 72-hour separation. Commanders are authorized to extend or modify the military no-contact order to ensure the safety and security of all persons. Military no-contact orders will be directed to Service members following consultation with the SWS FAP and the DAVA Program. The actual military no-contact order should be recorded on a DD Form 2873 (Military Protective Order) and given to the subject of the order with a copy provided to the Chief, SWS FAP, for the FAP case file. The commanding officer who issued the military no-contact order will provide a written copy within 24 hours of issuance to the person with whom the Service member is ordered not to have contact. In special circumstances and with the advice of the Provost Marshal Office (PMO), SWS FAP, and ACS FAP DAVA Program, commanders may order lesser periods of separation.

h. If the commander places the alleged offender with a command-assigned individual, that individual must be an officer or a noncommissioned officer (NCO) at least one grade higher than the alleged offender, who does not reside in close proximity to the victim.

i. In dual-military cases, commanders will require that the active duty victim remain in the couple's residence and that the active duty alleged offender be placed in the barracks or with a command-assigned individual.

j. In dual-military cases involving multiple alleged offenders/victims, commanders—after consultation with the PMO, SWS FAP, and DAVA Program—will make the determination of which party is placed in the barracks based on who is identified by the military police (MP) as the primary aggressor. According to AR 608-18, the primary aggressor is the person who maintains power and control in an abusive incident regardless of which party started the physical or verbal action, the party who continued the dispute, or the party who “provoked” the event. In deciding which party to order into the barracks, commanders should always consider the interests and welfare of the couple's minor children, if any.

k. Commanders will ensure that the SWS FAP and DAVA Program are notified immediately of all 72-hour no-contact orders or written Military Protection Orders (MPO). SWS FAP will serve as the RPOC for the installation and can be reached at (573) 596-1507 (duty hours). Evenings, weekends, and holidays, the RPOC can be reached through the Family Violence and Response Line at (573) 596-0446 or the GLWACH Emergency Room at (573) 596-0456.

l. Based on all of the circumstances, input from the DAVA, and the assessment of the SWS FAP caseworker, commanders will not allow the parties to reunite if either party's or the child(ren)'s safety from physical harm is at risk.

m. If circumstances warrant, or upon the recommendation of the MP, commanders will remove weapons from the on-post home of military personnel involved in domestic disputes and secure them in the unit's arms room. For incidents occurring off-post, commanders with reasonable grounds to believe the Service member is at risk for suicide or causing harm to others may inquire if a Service member plans to acquire, or already possesses or owns, a privately owned firearm. Service members with off-post firearms may be asked to voluntarily turn over the firearms for storage in the unit's armsroom.

n. When appropriate, commanders may revoke pass or leave privileges of military personnel subject to the provisions of this regulation and according to AR 608-18, paragraph 3-22a.

- o. In situations where Service members must retrieve basic necessities from their home, the commander will ensure that the victim is notified and that a unit escort is assigned to accompany the Service member to the home.
- p. The escort must be an officer or NCO at least one grade higher than the alleged offender. The escort will remain in the presence of the alleged offender at all times.
- q. After the Service member has gathered their basic necessities, the escort will be responsible for the Service member's return to the barracks or home of the command-assigned individual.
- r. The commander will ensure that the alleged offender understands this is a one-time visit during the separation period.
- s. Where the alleged offender is the civilian spouse, commanders will keep the Service member's safety as a high priority. Commanders will use whatever safety measures they deem appropriate, to include seeking a temporary bar from the installation for the alleged offender civilian spouse if necessary.
- t. Local civilian law enforcement shall deal with incidents occurring off post. Pursuant to a memorandum of agreement (MOA), local law enforcement shall be responsible for notifying the PMO of an alleged offender's apprehension and release. The PMO will then be responsible for notifying the commander, who will implement the 72-hour minimum period of physical separation.
- u. When an emergency temporary order (ex parte) or a full order of protection is in place, commanders will counsel alleged offenders as to the conditions outlined in the order and will make every effort to ensure that alleged offenders adhere to said order.
